Vv., 2015-04-21 T00:00:00+02:00 The digital age has witnessed the development of a new kind of archive immaterial living and moving largely user generated and conceived for managing a wide variety of audio visual materials besides traditional films and videos The first part of this anthology investigates the ways in which media forms like web documentaries video art and digital art web series amateur productions and also mobile films can be stored and preserved within the new digital repositories The second part focuses on archival and preservation practices of the video game This approach understands the archive not simply as a memory box but as a fully contemporary practice that locates new media objects in the present and acknowledges their changing cultural and social configurations The democratic often immaterial living mobile nature of contemporary archives forces us to question whether or not the traditional notion of the archive still has a heuristic value Or if it would be perhaps better to reject any conventional idea of archive and embrace the notion of an archive Jean Cocteau James S. Williams, 2019-01-31 This is a comprehensive original and accessible account of all aspects of Jean Cocteau's work in the cinema It is the first major study in English to appear for over forty years and casts new light on Cocteau's most celebrated films as well as those often neglected or little known Jean Cocteau is not only one of French cinema's greatest and most influential auteurs whose work covered all the major genres but also an experimenter collaborator theorist and all round ambassador of film This lucid account provides a complete introduction to Cocteau's cinematic project in the context of his entire oeuvre detailed analysis of individual films and a thematic engagement with all his cinema from a range of interdisciplinary perspectives The Cocteau that emerges is at once a materialist filmmaker and visionary who is committed to realism in all its guises and reveals the wonder and mystery of what he called the cinematograph Cinema and Art as Archive Aa. Vv., 2015-03-11 T00:00:00+01:00 As Jacques Derrida wrote in 1995 while considering Archive Fever nothing is less reliable or less clear today than the word archive Nevertheless the historic cultural dimension of the contemporary discursive practices in cinema and art develops in the semantic openendedness of the term in the repositioning of the idea of archive The individual disciplines involved in one such field history of cinema and art theory of cinema and art aesthetics semiotics philology etc begin to open up to questioning the notion of archive even in negative in other words what after Michel Foucault the archive is not or does not seem to be The archive is not the library of libraries or encyclopedia it is not memory it is not museum it is not a database In recent years the attention focused on such ideas has not so much highlighted the impulses turns and specific forms of art art archive as it has revealed in many ways how the archive concerns us in the interrelation of aesthetic political ethical and legal levels among various disciplinary fields
