Managing Negative Emotions Perversion:

Perversion Tina Seals, 2014-10-26 This book speaks about managing the negative emotions associated with the demonic spirits of lust and perversion

The Pragmatics of Managing Negative Emotions in a Chinese Context Rong Lei, 2024-09-19 Drawing from rich naturally occurring language data and synthesizing insights from the fields of interpersonal pragmatics and Chinese interpersonal communication this book presents a compelling exploration of the management of negative emotions through an interpersonal pragmatics lens The volume seeks to answer a number of key questions at the intersection of these two fields including how do negative interpersonal emotions manifest in the context of Chinese culture What connections exist between emotions and interpersonal dynamics In what ways are these emotions intertwined with the moral framework of Chinese society How are such negative emotions effectively navigated and regulated The analysis goes beyond mere examination of emotional expressions delving into the cultural nuances that shape the understanding and handling of emotions The book elucidates for instance how unmet ganqing expectations can trigger emotions like anger and sadness and in turn the employment of rapport management strategies in their mitigation The book provides profound insights into a previously overlooked and little understood area of study making it of interest to students and researchers in pragmatics discourse analysis communication studies and psychotherapy

Perversion Prof. Lisa Downing, Dany Nobus, 2018-04-24 Perversion its ubiquity in infantile life and its persistence in the psychical and sexual lives of some adults was a central element of Freud's lifelong work The problem of perversion has since been revisited by many psychoanalytic schools with the result that Freud's original view of perversion has been replaced by numerous often contradictory perspectives on its aetiology development and treatment The concept of perversion has also been significant for the disciplines of cultural studies and gender and queer theory which have explored the creative and dissident powers of perversion while expressing a suspicion of its operation as a pathological category This bi-partite collection offers a series of perspectives on perversion by a range of psychoanalytic practitioners and theorists edited by Dany Nobus and a selection of papers by scholars who work with or critique psychoanalytic theories of perversion edited by Lisa Downing It stages a serious dialogue between psychoanalysis and its commentators on the controversial issue of non-normative sexuality

Managing Your Emotions Joyce Meyer, 2008-11-16 God Gave You Emotions on Purpose Our emotions play a vital role in living happy healthy successful lives All emotions from love and joy to anger and fear have an important part to play in understanding ourselves and others They help us discover the wonders of this life as well as warn us when we are in danger But this diversity of feelings is meant to complement our life not determine it In this life-transforming book Joyce Meyer reveals powerful truths from God's Word that will help you learn to manage all of your emotions in the right direction Through hilarious illustrations and real-life applications Joyce delivers the keys to keeping your emotions in the proper place while allowing the Spirit of God to lead and direct you Dynamic scriptural insights are included on topics such as How not to be led by feelings Codependency Forgiveness Mood swings Healing for damaged emotions Depression And much more Don't allow your feelings to determine your destiny Instead manage your emotions to complement and enhance your attitude for a joyful victorious life

The Perverse Organisation and its Deadly Sins Susan Long, 2018-04-24 The Perverse Organisation and its Deadly Sins begins by examining the nature of perversity and its presence in corporate and organisational life Then four chapters examine the corporate sins of perverse pride greed envy and sloth each taking case studies from major organisations suffering their effects Finally the book enquires into the nature of the consumer provider pair as a centrepiece of the perverse cultural dynamics of current organisational life The emphasis in the book is on perversity displayed by the organisation as such rather than simply by its leaders or other members even though they may embody and manifest perverse primary symptoms to the extent that they at times engage in corrupt or criminal behaviour What is explored is a group and organisation dynamic more deeply embedded than conscious corruption Within the perverse structure some roles become required to take up corrupt positions They become part and parcel of the way things work The person may condemn certain practices but the role requires them Tensions between person and role may mean that the person in role acts as they would not while in other roles Such tensions may lead to the dynamics of perversity This book is important reading for managers consultants and all who are interested in the dynamics propelling what seem to be the out of control dynamics within contemporary organisational life It helps us understand how many people in positions of trust may end up abusing those positions It looks at how we may be collectively perverse despite our individual attempts to be otherwise Men and Mothers Hendrika C. Freud, 2018-03-08 Not all men vie with their fathers for the love of their mothers In some families the mother becomes the central figure for her son the father is excluded or excludes himself and does not come between mother and son The main thesis of this book using clinical vignettes and quotes from the work of Marcel Proust to illustrate the author's points is that in these cases fantasies of matricide replace patricide Men develop their male gender identity by being permitted to separate from their mother early on but when a man does not resolve his infantile tie to his mother he risks remaining in a passive and or dependent position towards her Over identification with the mother might ensue hampering masculine development Mothers who seek emotional support by binding their sons too closely can become seductive towards them The child is inclined to try to satisfy the emotional needs of his mother and he fears rejection if he asserts his independence instead of complying Matrix of Hysteria Nitza Yarom, 2005 Nitza Yarom looks at psychoanalysis in many different ways Psychological Factors Affecting Medical Conditions P. Porcelli, Piero Porcelli, N. Sonino, Nicoletta Sonino, T.N. Wise, 2007 In DSM IV the relationships between physical illness and psychological factors are grouped under the classifications Somatoform Disorders and Psychological Factors Affecting Medical Conditions PFAMC This volume introduces the Diagnostic Criteria for Psychosomatic Research DCPR as a new proposal for the PFAMC section of DSM V The DCPR approach focuses on psychological characteristics of patients presenting symptoms across different medical disorders related to the clinically relevant psychosocial constructs of abnormal illness behavior i.e. somatization demoralization type A behavior alexithymia conversion and irritability The distinct DCPR categories are consistent with concepts expressed by outstanding authors in psychosomatic medicine and are therefore suggested as specifiers of PFAMC for the future DSM V The volume includes updates reviews and empirical findings on psychological factors affecting various disorders in different clinical settings endocrinology gastroenterology oncology dermatology eating disorders consultation psychiatry It is essential reading for psychiatrists psychologists and physicians interested in psychosomatic medicine and provides the basic tools for the diagnosis of DCPR conditions
