Manual of Digital Earth Huadong Guo, Michael F. Goodchild, Alessandro Annoni, 2019-11-18 This open access book offers a summary of the development of Digital Earth over the past twenty years. By reviewing the initial vision of Digital Earth, the evolution of that vision, the relevant key technologies, and the role of Digital Earth in helping people respond to global challenges, this publication reveals how and why Digital Earth is becoming vital for acquiring, processing, analysing, and mining the rapidly growing volume of global data sets about the Earth. The main aspects of Digital Earth covered here include Digital Earth platforms, remote sensing and navigation satellites, processing and visualizing geospatial information, geospatial information infrastructures, big data and cloud computing, transformation and zooming, artificial intelligence, Internet of Things, and social media. Moreover, the book covers in detail the multi-layered, multi-faceted roles of Digital Earth in response to sustainable development goals, climate changes, and mitigating disasters. The applications of Digital Earth, such as digital city and digital heritage, the citizen science in support of Digital Earth, the economic value of Digital Earth, and so on. This book also reviews the regional and national development of Digital Earth around the world and discusses the role and effect of education and ethics. Operator's Manual for Army Model RU-21H Aircraft, 1991 Technical Manual United States. War Department, 1944 Technical Manual United States Department of the Army, 1950 Data management and visualisation in response to large-scale nuclear emergencies affecting food and agriculture Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-11-07 In a large scale nuclear emergency affecting food and agriculture, the release of radionuclides to the environment can severely impact the food chain and human health. Up-to-date information of soil, water, and crops are pertinent to informing decisions that prevent potentially contaminated products from reaching consumers. However, traditional management and visualisation of data are constrained in response times and decision-making accuracy as they are often not centralized and performed manually. Developments in information technology (IT) allow for Decision Support System (DSS) tools and algorithms to enhance real-time management of large volumes of data and decision-making in a spatio-temporal context. These IT support functions increase the capacity of stakeholders to focus on the most important matters at hand, ensuring food and consumer safety. This publication presents the challenges and solutions of real-time data management, geo-visualisation, and decision-making, as well as two case studies of how innovative IT systems can assist in nuclear emergency response affecting food and agriculture. One of the case studies presented is by the Soil and Water Management and Crop Nutrition Laboratory of the Joint FAO/IAEA Division; the other case study by Japanese Competent Authorities in the aftermath of the Fukushima Daiichi Nuclear Power Plant accident.
