Reviews of the first performance of a school play for students and parents

A special school play was performed for students and parents last week. The intention of promoting harmony between students and parents was good, however, the performance was not as good as it was from start to finish.

The play was about the relationship between students and parents. In the story, a student who got a poor academic result but he always thought that he was right. His parents always shouted at him and blamed him for not studying well. They never had communication and they had a really bad relationship. Until the student had a car accident, he found that his parents loved him very much indeed. With the help from the social worker, they finally know what is the right attitude to communicate with each other. The parents started not blaming their son, but encouraged him instead. As a result, the student's academic result was improved and they lived with peace and harmony afterwards.

The script was so ordinary and typical, it showed no variations. The shift from the bad relationship between the students and parents to the harmonious one through a car accident was very odd. The flow of the storyline was not smooth and it made the audience felt confused. Apart from the script, the technique of doing a drama was also very poor.

Autofiction in English Hywel Dix,2018-06-04 This innovative volume establishes autofiction as a new and dynamic area of theoretical research in English Since the term was coined by Serge Doubrovsky autofiction has become established as a recognizable genre within the French literary pantheon Yet unlike other areas of French theory English language discussion of autofiction has been relatively limited until now Starting out by exploring the characteristic features and definitions of autofiction from a conceptual standpoint the collection identifies a number of cultural historical and theoretical contexts in which the emergence of autofiction in English can be understood In the process it identifies what is new and distinctive about Anglophone forms of autofiction when compared to its French equivalents These include a preoccupation with the conditions of authorship writing after trauma and a heightened degree of authorial self reflexivity beyond that typically associated with postmodernism By concluding that there is such a field as autofiction in English it provides for the first time detailed analysis of the major works in that field and a concise historical overview of its emergence It thus opens up new avenues in life writing and authorship research      The End of the Asian Century Michael R.

engines of prosperity and innovation drivers of regional growth skilled migration and global competitiveness and makers of equality of opportunity Yet universities cannot drive prosperity on their own and they can do little to stop rising income inequality which is shaped by taxation policy and income determination in the workplace Worse the growing emphasis on the private benefits of higher education without regard for its public benefits has positioned the higher education sector as elite forming as a maker of social inequality rather than a corrective to it In the English speaking countries in which government sees itself as servant of high capitalism official policy models higher education as a market and has narrowed its purpose to the enhancement of individual earnings and employability partly to justify the ever rising tuition fees Higher education systems have become intensely competitive and increasingly stratified with value concentrated at the top In this quasi aristocratic economics of education mass institutions are losing social value and the collective public benefits of universities are unmonitored underfunded and ignored In short governments expect both too much and too little of higher education and its contribution to the common good is being eroded Yet this sector can play a key role in rebuilding social solidarity and mobility in fractured societies
