subsidiaries by nonprofit universities provides the potential for an especially contentious clash. Some faculty have been especially vocal in this debate claiming that the culture of the academy is being irreparably altered as traditional values are being replaced by a corporate style of management or by some hybrid. By answering the questions of why for-profit subsidiaries of nonprofit universities were created, how they are governed and managed, and what the nature of the relationship with their nonprofit parent is, this book contributes to a better understanding of the larger controversy over whether universities have become too business-like, too market-oriented, and whether they have sold their souls and values in the process. In essence, the book provides a window into whether it is possible to do business like a business, a trend afoot in the academy, and still retain allegiance to core values.

Service Management and Marketing Christian

Gronroos, 2016-01-26 Written by a leading pioneer in the field, the revised and updated fourth edition of this successful text examines service management and management in service competition from the point of view of the service-profit logic. It focuses on adopting service logic in the management of service firms as well as of product manufacturers which want to become service providers. With a wide base of examples, Christian Gronroos draws on decades of experience to explain how to manage any organization as a service business and move closer to current and future customers. Service logic and service management are all about customer-focused outside-in management using current academic research and business practice to make organizations more successful in the service-based economy. The author has created a unique set of YouTube video lectures, one per chapter, to enhance the chapter topics and further bring the concepts to life. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Ok5aUaB3VIlstPLGI2ZA6GM9FsuxR0RV9VATJjLfPEzQVh>
