Environmental Water Markets and Regulation Katherine Owens, 2016-11-18 River systems around the world are degraded and are being used unsustainably Meeting this challenge requires the development of flexible regimes that have the potential to meet essential consumptive needs while restoring environmental flows This book focuses on how water trading frameworks can be repurposed for environmental water recovery and aims to conceptualise the most appropriate role for law in supporting recovery through these frameworks The author presents a comprehensive study of the legal frameworks in four jurisdictions the States of Oregon and Colorado in the western United States the province of Alberta in Canada and the Murray Darling Basin in Australia Basin State of New South Wales A close comparative analysis of these four jurisdictions reveals a variety of distinctive regulatory arrangements and collaborations between public and private actors In all cases the law has been deployed to steer and coordinate these water governance activities The book argues that each regime is based on a particular regulatory strategy with different conceptions of the appropriate roles for and relationships between various actors and institutions Legal frameworks do not have the capacity to rationalise and provide an overarching and absolute solution to the complex environmental and governance issues that arise in the context of environmental water transactions Rather the role of law in this context needs to be reconceptualised within the paradigm of regulatory capitalism as establishing and maintaining the limits within which regulatory participants can operate innovate and collaborate Global Agriculture and the American Farmer Kimberly Ann Elliott, 2017-06-27 The United States is one of the world's largest producers and exporters of a range of agricultural commodities and the largest provider of foreign assistance so U.S. policies have big effects on global food security and other global public goods linked to agriculture On the positive side of the ledger President Obama created the Feed the Future aid initiative to promote agricultural development in poorer countries as a tool to achieve the global goals of ending hunger and extreme poverty which are mostly rural But that generosity is undercut by U.S. support for farmers that distorts global markets and ignores negative spillovers for the rest of the world In this book Elliott focuses on three policy areas that are particularly damaging for developing countries traditional agricultural subsidy and trade policies that support the incomes of American farmers at the expense of farmers elsewhere the biofuels mandate which in its current form increases market volatility while doing little if anything to mitigate climate change and weak regulation of antibiotic use in livestock which contributes to the global spread of drug resistant super bugs While noting that broad reforms are needed to fix these problems Elliott also identifies practical steps that U.S. policymakers could take in the relatively short run to improve farm policies for American taxpayers and consumers as well as for the poor and vulnerable in developing countries Agricultural Development and Food Security in Africa Renu Modi, Fantu Cheru, 2013-08-08 The subject of food security and land issues in Africa has become one of increased importance and contention over recent years In particular the focus has shifted to the role new global South donors especially India China and Brazil are playing in shaping African agriculture through their increased involvement and investment in the continent Approaching the topic through the framework of South South co operation this highly original volume presents a critical analysis of the ways in which Chinese Indian and Brazilian engagements in African agriculture are structured and implemented Do these investments have the potential to create new opportunities to improve local living standards transfer new technology and knowhow to African producers and reverse the persistent productivity decline in African agriculture Or will they simply aggravate the problem of food insecurity by accelerating the process of land alienation and displacement of local people from their land Topical and comprehensive Agricultural Development and Food Security in Africa offers fresh insight into a set of relationships that will shape both Africa and the world over the coming decades OECD Food and Agricultural Reviews Agricultural Policies in the Philippines OECD, 2017-04-07 This report analyses Philippine agricultural policy Agriculture provides 30% of total employment in the Philippines and represents 11% of its Gross Domestic Product The Philippines has had notable recent overall economic success yet improving agricultural performance remains challenging Complexity, Security and Civil Society in East Asia Peter Hayes, Kiho Yi, 2015-06-22 Complexity Security and Civil Society in East Asia offers the latest understanding of complex global problems in the region including nuclear weapons urban insecurity energy and climate change Detailed case studies of China North and South Korea and Japan demonstrate the importance of civil society and civic diplomacy in reaching shared solutions to these problems in East Asia and beyond Each chapter describes regional civil society initiatives that tackle complex challenges to East Asia s security In doing so the book identifies key pressure points at which civil society can push for constructive changes especially ones that reduce the North Korean threat to its neighbors Unusually this book is both theoretical and practical Complexity Security and Civil Society in East Asia presents strategies that can be led by civil society and negotiated by its diplomats to realize peace security and sustainability worldwide It shows that networked civic diplomacy offers solutions to these urgent issues that official complex diplomacy cannot By providing a new theoretical framework based on empirical observation this volume is a must read for diplomats scholars students journalists activists and individual readers seeking insight into how to solve the crucial issues of our time

Risk Regulation in the Internal Market Maria Weimer, 2019-03-13 This book offers a topical inquiry into the legal and political limits of EU regulation in the field of risk and new technologies surrounded by techno scientific complexity uncertainty and societal contestation It uses agricultural biotechnology as a paradigmatic example to illustrate the complex intertwinement between environmental public health economic and social concerns in risk regulation Weimer analyses the drawbacks of the EU approach to agricultural biotechnology showing that its reductionism i.e. the narrow understanding of GMO risks as well as the exclusion of broader societal concerns related to environmental and social sustainability has undermined both the legitimacy and effectiveness of EU regulation in this area Resistance to this approach however has also triggered legal innovations prompting us to re think EU internal market law including the way in which it manages the tensions between unity and diversity and between social and economic concerns This text offers fresh and original insights into how far the EU can go in harmonizing regulatory approaches to risk At the same time it proposes new ways of re thinking EU risk regulation to make it more responsive to different perspectives on risk and technology A unique feature of this book is that it contributes to various strains of scholarship including risk regulation internal market law public administration and studies of governance and regulation as well as connecting these themes to broader debates about the legitimacy of European integration and new ways of differentiated integration As a result it assists in re imagining the EU internal market and its regulation as a site of diversity

The West and the Birth of Bangladesh Richard Pilkington, 2021-08-15 In 1971 authorities in Islamabad perpetrated mass atrocities in East Pakistan in an attempt to thwart a struggle for autonomy by terrorizing the local population into submission The West and the Birth of Bangladesh explores the decision making processes and ethical debates in Washington Ottawa and London during the crucial first few months of the crisis US president Richard Nixon and his national security advisor Henry Kissinger favoured appeasement of Islamabad The Canadian government was unwilling to hazard bilateral ties with Pakistan Under public pressure only the UK showed somewhat greater willingness to coerce Islamabad into ending its oppressive actions Richard Pilkington analyzes the interplay of US Canadian and British responses toward East Pakistan and the available policy options This insightful book reveals how even as human rights movements began to emerge in the West blinkered government actors there remained too preoccupied with protecting national interests to take firm action during the crisis

The Pacific Islands Moshe Rapaport, 2013-05-31 The Pacific is the last major world region to be discovered by humans Although small in total land area its numerous islands and archipelagoes with their startlingly diverse habitats and biotas extend across a third of the globe This revised edition of a popular text explores the diverse landforms climates and ecosystems of the Pacific island region Multiple chapters written by leading specialists cover the environment history culture population and economy The work includes new or completely revised chapters on gender music logging development education urbanization health ocean resources and tourism Throughout two key issues are addressed the exceptional environmental challenges and the demographic economic political challenges facing the region Although modern technology and media and waves of continental tourists are fast eroding island cultures the continuing resilience of Pacific island populations is apparent This is the only contemporary text on the Pacific Islands that covers both environment and sociocultural issues and will thus be indispensable for any serious student of the region Unlike other reviews it treats the entirety of Oceania with the exception of Australia and is well illustrated with numerous photos and maps including a regional atlas Contributors David Abbott Dennis A Ahlburg Glenn Banks John Barker Geoffrey Bertram David A Chappell William C Clarke John Connell Ron Crocombe Julie Cupples Derrick Depledge Colin Filer Gerard J Fryer Patricia Fryer Brenden S Holland E Alison Kay David M Kennedy Lamont Lindstrom Rick Lumpkin Harley I Manner Selina Tusitala Marsh Nancy McDowell Hamish A McGowan Frank McShane Simon Milne R John Morrison Dieter Mueller Dombois Stephen G Nelson Patrick D Nunn Michael R Ogden Andrew Pawley Jean Louis Rallu Vina Ram Bidesi Moshe Rapaport Annette Sachs Robertson Richard Scaglione Donovan Storey Andrew P Sturman Lynne D Talley James P Terry Randolph R Thaman Frank R Thomas Caroline Vercoe Terence Wesley Smith Paul Wolfram

Civic Engagement in Food System Governance Alan R. Hunt, 2015-10-05 The local food movement is one of the most active of current civil engagement social movements This work presents primary evidence from over 900 documents interviews and participant observations and provides the first descriptive history of local food movement national policy achievements in the US from 1976 to 2013 and in the UK from 1991 to 2013 together with reviews of both the American and British local food movements It provides a US UK comparative context significantly updating earlier comparisons of American British and European farm and rural policies The comparative perspective shows that over time more effective strategies for national policy change required social movement building strategies such as collaborative policy coalitions capacity building for smaller organizations and policy entrepreneurship for joining together separate rural farming food and health interests In contrast narrowly defined single issue campaigns often undermined long term policy change even if short term wins emerged By profiling interviews of American and English movement leaders policymakers and funders the book demonstrates that democratic participation in food policy is best supported when funders incentivize groups to work together and overcome their differences

Building Sustainable Agriculture for Food Security in the Euro-Mediterranean Area Maria Cristina Paciello, 2015-06-19 Sustainable agroculture and food security are of particular concern for the countries of the Middle East and North Africa MENA region and represent one of the biggest challenges facing the area As a consequence of the region's heavy reliance on food imports the sharp increase in food prices since 2007 and the consequent world food crisis has had macro economic problems inflation trade deficits fiscal pressure increased poverty and political instability This challenge coupled with the consequences of environmental degradation water scarcity urbanization and climate stress call for the urgent development of sustainable agriculture has mostly been ignored in Euro Mediterranean relations due to strong opposition from the EU However academics and policymakers have increasingly acknowledged that agriculture that needs to be placed at the core of Euro Mediterranean regional cooperation Given the sensitiveness and strategic importance of agriculture for both shores of the Mediterranean the IAI and the OCP Policy Center jointly organized a two day conference in Rabat on November 20 21 2014 to discuss food security and agriculture challenges in the framework of Euro Mediterranean relations The present volume collects the updated and revised versions of the twelve papers that were discussed in that meeting

Handbook of Bioenergy Economics and Policy: Volume II Madhu Khanna, David Zilberman, 2017-05-22 In its second volume this book aims to link the academic research with development in the real world and provide a historical and institutional background that can enrich more formal research The first section will include an assessment of the evolution and the state of the nascent second generation biofuel as well as a perspective on the evolution of corn ethanol and sugarcane ethanol in Brazil It will also include a historical and institutional background on the biofuel industry in Brazil that has global lessons and later provide a technical overview of major analytical tools used to assess the economic land use and greenhouse gas implications of biofuel policies at a regional and global level Additionally the book analyzes the various drivers for land use change both at a micro economic level and at a macro economic level It presents studies that apply regional and global economic models to examine the effects of biofuel policies in the US EU and

Brazil on regional and global land use on food and fuel prices and greenhouse gas emissions These papers illustrate the use of partial and general equilibrium modeling approaches to simulate the effects of various biofuel policies and includes studies showing the effects of risk aversion time preferences and liquidity constraints on farmers decision to grow energy crops for biofuel production By presenting the tools of lifecycle analysis for assessing the direct greenhouse gas intensity of biofuels this handbook investigates the types of indirect or market mediated effects that can offset or strengthen these direct effects It will include tools to assess the direct and indirect effects of biofuel production on greenhouse gas emissions in the US and Brazil and ultimately provide a comprehensive background to understand the state of biofuel in the present and how to analyze their implication
