Daily Life in the Medieval Islamic World James E. Lindsay, 2005-06-30 From the time of its birth in Mecca in the 7th century C E Islam and the Islamic world rapidly expanded outward extending to Spain and West Africa in the west and to Central Asia and the Indian Subcontinent in the east An examination of the daily life in these Islamic regions provides insight into a civilized powerful and economically stable culture where large metropolitan centers such as Damascus Baghdad and Cairo thrived in many areas including intellectual and scientific inquiry In contrast with medieval Europe there is little common knowledge in the West of the culture and history of this vibrant world as different from our own in terms of the political religious and social values it possessed as it is similar in terms of the underlying human situation that supports such values This book provides an intimate look into the daily life of the medieval Islamic world and is thus an invaluable resource for students and general readers alike interested in understanding this world so different and yet so connected to our own Chapters include discussions of the major themes of medieval Islamic history Arabia the world of Islamic origins warfare and politics the major cities of Damascus Baghdad and Cairo religious rituals and worship and a section on curious and entertaining information Author James E Lindsay further provides a focused look at the daily lives of urban Muslims during this time period and of their interactions with Jews Christians and other Muslims Timelines tables including a calendar conversion to align the Islamic lunar and the Christian solar dates and a dynastic table highlighting the major genealogies of the ancient ruling families a bibliography and a glossary of important dates and technical terms are also provided to assist the reader
