Law and Economics of Regulation Klaus Mathis,Avishalom Tor,2021-04-24 This book explores current issues regarding the regulation of various economic sectors theoretically and empirically discussing both neoclassical and behavioural economics approaches to regulation Regulation has become one of the main determinants of modern economies and virtually every sector is subject to general laws and regulations as well as specific rules and standards A traditional argument to justify regulatory interventions is the promotion of public interests Fixing markets that lack competition balancing information asymmetries internalising externalities mitigating systemic risks and protecting consumers from irrational behaviour are frequently invoked to complement the invisible hand of the market with the visible hand of the state. However, regulations can lead to unintended consequences and serve the interests of powerful private interest groups rather than the public interest and social welfare. In addition, new insights from behavioural economics question the traditional regulatory approaches, most prominently in attitudes towards consumers. Furthermore, digitalisation and technological innovation in general present new challenges in terms of both the type of regulation and the regulatory process. Part I of this book discusses various theoretical approaches to the economic analysis of regulations, while Part II looks at specific applications of the law and economics of regulation.

Industrial Development in Africa Berhanu Abegaz, 2018-02-21. Industrial Development in Africa critically synthesizes and reframes the debates on African industrial development in a capability/opportunity framework. It recasts the challenge in a broader comparative context of successive waves of catchup industrialization experiences in the European periphery, Latin America and East Asia. Berhanu Abegaz explores the case for resource-based and factor-based industrialization in North Africa and Sub-Saharan Africa by drawing on insights from the history of industrialization, development economics, political economy and institutional economics. Unpacking complex and diverse experiences, the chapters look at Africa at several levels: continent-wide, sub-regions on both sides of the Sahara and present analytical case studies of 12 representative countries: Egypt, Tunisia, Ethiopia, Kenya, Tanzania, Mauritius, Zimbabwe, South Africa, Ghana, Nigeria, Senegal and Côte d'Ivoire. Industrial Development in Africa will be of interest to undergraduate and graduate students studying African development, African economics and late stage industrialization. The book will also be of interest to policymakers. Handbook of Emerging

Financial Statements Ulf Mohrmann, 2016-02-15. The dissertation consists of four essays on the quality of audited financial statements. The first analysis investigates the association between several regulations of the audit market and earnings characteristics. The second essay differentiates between different drivers of audit quality after an auditor change by comparing the effects of voluntary and mandatory auditor changes. The third study analyses the different strategies of Big4 and non-Big4 auditors in dealing with Level 3 fair values. The fourth part examines banks' valuation behavior concerning Level

3 fair values Labor Income Share in Asia Gary Fields, Saumik Paul, 2019-08-09 This is the first study that puts together a comprehensive and in depth analysis of the drivers of the labor income share across a number of countries in Asia This book provides an insightful companion to the study of labor income shares that plays a vital role in understanding the relationship between national income and personal income and the relationship between wage inequality and wealth inequality The timing of the book is ideal as the ongoing debate over a global decline in the labor income share is far from settled To this extent evidence from the Asian countries is mixed The labor income share in some Asian countries has been rising since the 1990s The purpose of this edited volume is to gain more insights on the potential drivers of the Asian experience The first half of the book pays attention to the measurement problems related to the earnings of self employed and workers in the informal sector Then it puts together country case studies examining a wide range of factors driving the labor income share in Asia Leveraging Urbanization in South Asia Peter Ellis, Mark Roberts, 2015-11-13 The number of people in South Asia s cities rose by 130 million between 2000 and 2011 more than the entire population of Japan This was linked to an improvement in productivity and a reduction in the incidence of extreme poverty But the region s cities have struggled to cope with the pressure of population growth on land housing infrastructure basic services and the environment As a result urbanization in South Asia remains underleveraged in its ability to deliver widespread improvements in both prosperity and livability Leveraging Urbanization in South Asia is about the state of South Asia s urbanization and the market and policy failures that have taken the region s urban areas to where they are today and the hard policy actions needed if the region s cities are to leverage urbanization better This publication provides original empirical and diagnostic analysis of urbanization and related economic trends in the region It also discusses in detail the key policy areas the most fundamental being urban governance and finance where actions must be taken to make cities more prosperous and livable
