Music Education in Africa Emily Achieng' Akuno, 2019-04-01 This book explores the music of Africa and its experience in modern education offering music education analyses from African perspectives The collection assembles insights from around Africa to bring African and non African scholars into the world of music education policy and assessment as played out across the continent The music of Africa presents multiple avenues for the understanding of the reality of life from a cultural perspective The teaching and learning of this music closely follows its practice the latter involving a combination of artistic expressions With international interest in world music there is need to engage with concepts and processes of this music The volume offers new research from culture bearers scholars and educators rooted in practices that provide deeper perceptions of the cultural expression of music With sections focussing on Concepts in Musical Arts Musical Arts Processes and Music Education Practice it captures and documents the concept of musical arts from an African experiential perspective Articulating the processes of musical arts and their implications for teaching and learning in both African and international learning contexts it presents a balanced view of music as a phenomenon and generates material for discussion A valuable resource for those seeking insight into aspects of music practice in Africa this book will appeal to scholars of Music Education Ethnomusicology Community Music African Studies and African Music The Press of Africa F. Barton, 1979-06-17 Autobiography and Decolonization Philip Holden, 2008 Philip Holden reveals deeply gendered connections between the writing of individual lives and of the narratives of nations emerging from colonialism Autobiography and Decolonization is the first book to give serious academic attention to autobiographies of nationalist leaders in the process of decolonization attending to them not simply as partial historical documents but as texts involved in remaking the world views of their readers Holden examines Mohandas K Gandhi s An Autobiography The Story of My Experiments with Truth Marcus Garvey s fragmentary Autobiography Joseph Ephraim Casely Hayford s Ethiopia Unbound Lee Kuan Yew s The Singapore Story Nelson Mandela s Long Walk to Freedom Jawaharlal Nehru s An Autobiography and Kwame Nkrumah s Ghana The Autobiography of Kwame Nkrumah Holden argues that these examples of life writing have had significant influence on the formation of new and often profoundly gendered national identities These narratives constitute the nation less as an imagined community than as an imagined individual Moving from the past to the promise of the future they mediate relationships between public and private and between individual and collective stories Ultimately they show how the construction of modern selfhood is inextricably linked to the construction of a postcolonial polity Africa, Another Side of the Coin Andrew Sardanis, 2011-02-28 Africa is a lost cause This is a cynical view held widely in the West in much of the world and even in Africa Many people in the old European colonial powers and not only the dwindling band of old Africa

hands who served in the colonies are in despair lamenting maladministration corruption civil and inter state wars poverty famine and the seemingly unstoppable march of AIDS And all in a great continent with abundant human and natural resources The other side of the coin is that hope is beginning to dawn as Africa s plight is recognised by the Africans themselves and its vital strategic political and economic importance in the age of globalisation is gaining universal appreciation An African renaissance may seem far fetched but there is perhaps light at the end of the tunnel This is the backdrop against which Andrew Sardanis fascinating story is set It begins with his work as a journalist in Cyprus on the receiving end of British colonialism and moves to Northern Rhodesia where he played a leading role as an international businessman and in the politics of independence leading to the new nation of Zambia He was at the heart of Zambia s political and business development and always a sympathetic but critical observer and adviser both in government and in business also a close but objective friend of leaders including Kenneth Kaunda

Conversations with memorable personalities Amos Malupenga, 2024-05-21 After reviewing just part of this book s contents Rex Mudenda a risk management professional and Lusaka based avid reader of political science literature states This book is loaded There is usually no such a cocktail of prominent personalities covered in one book I kept on salivating on the featured names under the Conversations section The book has captured a good slice of Zambia s political story Mulenga Kapwepwe a prolific Zambian author states A page turning thriller of historical social and political value Each prominent personality comes alive through Amos Malupenga s compelling narrative allowing us rare glimpses into their personal experiences and connections to pivotal events that have impacted and coloured our fascinating national story The above is an apt description of this book s contents They are as intriguing as they are gripping Because of the cocktail of the personalities featured one can safely say these are several books in one On the basis of these conversations with most of the political figures the author has taken the liberty to draw a parallel between democracy and theocracy In so doing the author concludes that from the beginning of human history even the best human governments democracies have failed to solve mankind s serious problems because of bad leadership owing to the inherent imperfection as a result of sin The bad leadership is increasingly proving to be one of the root causes of all evil in human societies across the entire inhabited earth Consequently the author asserts that theocracy is the panacea the universal cure the perfect solution and sovereign remedy to mankind s problems be they big or small

The Politics and Economics of Decolonization in Africa Andrew Cohen, 2017-05-26 The slow collapse of the European colonial empires after 1945 provides one of the great turning points of twentieth century history With the loss of India however the British under Harold Macmillan attempted to enforce a second colonial occupation supporting the efforts of Sir Andrew Cohen of the Colonial Office to create a Central African Federation Drawing on newly released archival material The Politics and Economics of Decolonization offers a fresh examination of Britain s central African territories in the late colonial period and provides a detailed assessment of how events in Britain Africa and the UN shaped the process of decolonization

The author situates the Central African Federation which consisted of modern day Zambia Zimbabwe and Malawi in its wider international context shedding light on the Federation s complex relationships with South Africa with US Presidents Dwight Eisenhower and John F Kennedy and with the expanding United Nations The result is an important history of the last days of the British Empire and the beginnings of a more independent African continent
