1. The first step in the accounting process is to identify the transactions that affect the business. This is done by recording the transactions in the journal. The journal is a record of all the business transactions in chronological order. The journal is then used to prepare the ledger accounts. The ledger accounts are used to prepare the financial statements. The financial statements are used to provide information to the management and the external stakeholders. The financial statements are the balance sheet, the income statement, and the cash flow statement. The balance sheet shows the assets, liabilities, and equity of the business at a specific point in time. The income statement shows the revenues, expenses, and net income of the business over a period of time. The cash flow statement shows the cash inflows and outflows of the business over a period of time. The financial statements are used to make decisions about the business and to provide information to the external stakeholders.
