
CHAPTER 2

Discussion Questions

- 2-1. The price-earnings ratio will be influenced by the earnings and sales growth of the firm, the risk or volatility in performance, the debt-equity structure of the firm, the dividend payment policy, the quality of management, and a number of other factors. The ratio tends to be future-oriented, and will be higher the more positive the outlook.
- 2-2. Book value per share is arrived at by taking the cost of the assets and subtracting out liabilities and preferred stock and dividing by the number of common shares outstanding. It is based on the historical costs of the assets. Market value per share is based on current assessed value of the firm in the marketplace and may bear little relationship to original cost. Besides the disparity between book and market value caused by the historical cost approach, other contributing factors are the growth prospects for the firm, the quality of management, and the industry outlook. To the extent these are quite negative, or positive, market value may differ widely from book value.
- 2-3. The only way amortization generates cash flows for the company is by serving as a tax shield against reported income. Allowable amortization for tax purposes is known as capital cost allowance (CCA). In most instances this will be different than accounting amortization. This non-cash deduction may provide cash flow equal to the tax rate times the amortization charged. This much in taxes will be saved, while no cash payments occur.
- 2-4. Accumulated amortization is the sum of all past and present amortization charges, while amortization expense is the current year's charge. They are related in that the sum of all prior amortization expense should be equal to accumulated amortization (subject to some differential related to asset write-offs).
- 2-5. The balance sheet, for private companies, is based on historical costs. When prices are rising rapidly, historical cost data may lose much of their meaning - particularly for plant, equipment and inventory. However, the balance sheet of public companies using IFRS is based on market values and opposite order whereby non-current assets are listed ahead of current assets. The same applies to the liabilities section that lists non-current liabilities first.
- 2-6. The income statement and balance sheet are based on the accrual method of accounting, which attempts to match revenues and expenses in the period in which they occur. However, accrual accounting does not attempt to properly assess the cash flow position of the firm. The statement of changes in financial position fulfills this need. The values on these statements will differ for public companies using IFRS compared to private firms.
- 2-7. The sections of the statement of cash flows and sources of information are:
Cash flows from operating activities (Income statement)
Cash flows from investing activities (non-current assets section of balance sheet)
Cash flows from financing activities (non-current liabilities and equity section)
