comprehensively explores the biology and ecological status of manatees and dugongs in all of the geographic regions where they can be found today from the Caribbean to Eastern Africa from Arabia to the Amazon and from Japan through the South Pacific to Australia Many of these dwindling populations are situated in developing countries locales that have previously received little attention in the scientific literature In these areas people occupying rivers or coastlines still capture sirenians for food and other uses oil bones for carving leather In addition disruption erosion or complete loss of sirenian habitat occurs because of dredge and fill coastal run off chemical pollution and damage from boat propellers Sirenian Conservation features contributions from an international group of scientists who are working to address the many challenges to manatee and dugong food supply environment reproduction and survival They share stories of programs that rescue rehabilitate release and monitor these animals offer reports on practical replicable and cost effective management techniques and summarize current research strategies Index Medicus ,2001-03 Vols for 1963 include as pt 2 of the Jan issue Medical subject
