At daylight I was half-awakened by the sound of chopping. Again it was so even in texture that I went back to sleep. When I left my bed in the cool morning, the boy had come and gone, and a stack of kindling was neat against the cabin wall. He came after school in the afternoon and worked until time to return to the orphanage. His name was Jerry he had been at the orphanage since he was four. I could picture him at four, with the same grave gray-blue eyes and the same—independence. No, the word that comes to me is 'integrity' It is bedded on courage, but it is more than brave. It is honest, but it is more than honesty. The axe handle broke one day. Jerry said the woodshop at the orphanage would repair it. I brought money to pay for the job and he refused it. "I'll pay for it," he said. "I broke it. I brought the axe down careless." "But no one hits accurately every time." I told him. "The fault was in the wood of the handle. I'll see the man from whom I bought it." It was only then that he would take the money. He was standing back of his own carelessness. He was a free-will agent and he chose to do careful work, and if he failed, he took the responsibility without subterfuge.

initiates important conversations about literacy as a sociocultural practice in a region that is both challenged and shaped by sociocultural influence unique to Asia's historical and geopolitical trajectory. Driven by the authors' lived experiences of becoming literate as well as their empirical research work in later years, each chapter brings decades of biographical narratives and collective empirical research findings to bear. Within the book are negotiations about literacy across and within home and school contexts, transactions of literature text and reader, and considerations of the literacy policy practice nexus. These trajectories, while divergent in their issues, come together as shared lived experience located in local contexts considered through global perspectives. As Asia looks set to become the 21st century's new economic and labour force, the need to understand the sociocultural milieu of this region cannot be understated. This book on literacy education in Asia contributes to the larger narrative.

Secondary School English Education in Asia Bernard Spolsky, Kiwan Sung, 2015-03-27

Continuing on from the previously published Primary School English Language Education in Asia: From Policy to Practice (Moon Spolsky, 2012), this book compiles the proceedings which took place at the 2011 annual conference of AsiaTEFL, which took place in Seoul, Korea. It surveys the current status, practices, challenges, and future directions of Secondary English education in 11 diverse countries: Israel, Japan, Korea, Singapore, Bangladesh, India, Indonesia, Malaysia, Pakistan, Vietnam, and China. Given the importance of secondary English education as the central feature for continuing development of target language and culture in English language teaching in Asia, each contributed chapter includes key policies, theories, and practices related to the development and implementation of country-specific curricular and instructional programs in secondary English educational contexts in these countries. Secondary School English Education in Asia: From Policy to Practice critically analyses both sides of the English language debate, from advantages to complications, in its chapters, including Educating for the 21st Century: The Singapore Experience, Miles to Go: Secondary Level English Language Education in India, English Language Education Innovation for the Vietnamese Secondary School, The Project 2020: Exploring the Value of ELT as a Secondary School Subject in China, A Multi-goal Model for English Curriculum, Secondary School English Education in Asia. This book will appeal to English Language Teaching (ELT) researchers, teacher educators, trainee teachers, and teachers, primarily those teaching in Asia.

Reforming Literature Education in Malaysia 1957 - 2020

Jia Wei Lim, 2024-08-12. Lim traces the complexities in construction and implementation of a school subject, namely Literature in English in Malaysia, through a focused and grounded narrative where tensions regarding identity, reader response, and conceptualisations about literature play out in a postcolonial context. The book demonstrates the need to think about school subjects as abstract concepts negotiated at various levels, be it during curriculum construction or in the classroom. These conceptualisations of the subject are further influenced by contemporary concerns and sociopolitical changes over time. As such, the scope of this book ranges from pre-independence Malaysia, then Malaya, from the 1950s till the current phase of the subject's development in the 21st century. The volume illustrates the complex interplay of historical, cultural and social influences on the conceptualisation of English literature as a school subject in Malaysia. Lim traces, examines and interprets its development as an elective subject in the context of post-secondary Malaysian education and engages with current trends in education such as internationalization and standardized assessment. Lim also highlights the importance of teacher and student lived experiences to argue that personal conceptualisations of the school subject are actualized and negotiated in classroom discourse. Offering unique insights into studying Literature in English in a postcolonial context, the book will appeal to researchers, students and practitioners in the fields of history of education, curriculum reform and literature education.

THE TRIAL BY FIRE : MEMOIRS OF A COLLEGE PRINCIPAL G. Ramachandram, 2017-03-07. This autobiography is a rare story of the courage and the conviction of a person holding a position of power and authority taking on the high and the mighty, refusing to buckle under pressure and do what is unethical and illegal, risking his career time and again. The author had a journey in defiance, fighting relentlessly against the corrupt system. During his two decades long tenure, he had to quite often face the trials by fire in order to secure his college with a solid foundation of perennial values, transparency and commitment to truth. The autobiography is in four parts: Part I Blissful ignorance narrates the life of a rustic village boy and how he transformed; Part II Awakening is about the author's struggle to find meaning and purpose for existence and becoming a teacher by accident; Part III Rise is regarding his appointment as the Principal, the conspiracy to scuttle the appointment and his legal battles; Part IV Turbulence is about his uninterrupted nerve-racking duel with multiple authorities to reinstate the truth and justice and protect the institution of Principal. And by taking a high moral ground and displaying mental toughness, he weathered a turbulent period of calculated verbal assaults aimed at making him dispirited and crippled. This is the first time that such an autobiography is penned by the Head of any educational institution, giving a gripping account of his torrid times. The book makes an interesting and inspirational reading. It is rich, engaging and very truthful. The heads of educational institutions, particularly the future generation of academic administrators, will profit by the book. The Orissa Education Magazine, 1970
