The Machinery of School Internationalisation in Action Laura C. Engel, Claire Maxwell, Miri Yemini, 2019-10-21 Drawing on scholarship from the field of internationalisation in higher education and other theoretical influences in education policy comparative education and sociology of education this edited collection offers a much needed extension of discussion and research into the compulsory schooling context In this book established and emerging scholars provide an authoritative set of conceptual tools for researchers in the field of internationalisation of compulsory schooling It provides an overview of the current knowledge base and ways in which future research could engage with gaps in understandings Through detailed case studies of the multiple forms of internationalisation present within schools and schooling systems the volume considers why and how processes of internationalisation are shaping compulsory schooling today This book will offer scholars and educators a clearer more coherent set of conceptual frameworks within which to position their work in sociology of education and international and comparative education helping to develop a more comprehensive understanding of the many ways compulsory schooling is being internationalised and with what consequences Rule Britannia Danny Dorling,2019-01-15 Things fall apart when empires crumble This time we think things will be different They are not This time we are told we will become great again We will not In this new edition of the hugely successful Rule Britannia Danny Dorling and Sally Tomlinson argue that the vote to leave the EU was the last gasp of the old empire working its way out of the British psyche Fuelled by a misplaced nostalgia the result was driven by a lack of knowledge of Britain s imperial history by a profound anxiety about Britain s status today and by a deeply unrealistic vision of our future Digital Geography Maxim Bakaev,Radomir Bolgov,Andrei V. Chugunov,Roberto Pereira,Elakkiya R,Wei Zhang,2024-11-08 This proceedings book collects contributions from the Internet and Modern Society conference in 2023 The gathering addresses topical issues of digital geography and geography of information society providing a platform for discussion and collaboration between experts in related fields Participants from all over the world consider the controversies and challenges posed by globalization focusing on topics including digital urbanism smart cities digital sustainability social media movements digital divides cyber psychology This volume centers on five core themes the digital city computational linguistics and machine learning interactive systems and information society technologies cyberpsychology digital health and active aging and e governance and political communication Food and Media Jonatan Leer,Karen Klitgaard Povlsen,2016-06-17 Food is everywhere in contemporary mediascapes as witnessed by the increase in cookbooks food magazines television cookery shows online blogs recipes news items and social media posts about food This mediatization of food means that the media often interplays between food consumption and everyday practices between private and political matters and between individuals groups and societies This volume argues that contemporary food studies need to pay more attention to the significance of media in relation to how we do food Understanding food media is particularly central to the diverse contemporary social and cultural practices of food where media use plays an increasingly important but also differentiated and differentiating role in both large scale decisions and most people s everyday practices The contributions in this book offer critical studies of food media discourses and of media users interpretations negotiations and uses that construct places and spaces as well as possible identities and everyday practices of sameness or otherness that might form new or renew old food politics Access, Quality, and the Global Learning Crisis Sarah Kabay,2021 The global learning crisis is one of the most critical challenges facing the world today Through a case study of over 400 schools and communities in Uganda this book presents evidence that challenges the key assumption that there is a trade off between access and quality in improving basic education around the world The Role of Teacher Interpersonal Variables in Students' Academic Engagement, Success, and Motivation Ali Derakhshan, Reza Pishghadam, Anna Mystkowska-Wiertelak, 2022-07-05 Environmental Education in Indonesia Lyn Parker, Kelsie Prabawa-Sear, 2019-08-08

Indonesia's wealth of natural resources is being exploited at breakneck speed and environmental awareness and knowledge among the populace is limited. This book examines how young people learn about the environment to see how education can help to develop environmental awareness and avert vast environmental destruction not only in Indonesia but also in the Global South more generally. Based on in-depth studies conducted in the cities of Yogyakarta and Surabaya complemented with surveys of students in secondary schools, Environmental Education in Indonesia examines educational curricula, pedagogy and green activities to reveal what is currently being done in schools to educate children about the environment. The book investigates the shortcomings in environment education including underqualified teachers, the civil service mentality, the still pervasive chalk and talk pedagogy and the effect of the examination system. It also analyses the role of local government in supporting or not environmental education and the contribution of environmental NGOs. The book establishes that young people are not currently being exposed to effective environmental education and the authors propose that the best and most culturally appropriate way forward in Indonesia is to frame pro-environment behaviour and responsibility as a form of citizenship and specifically that environmental education should be taught as a separate subject. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of contemporary Indonesia and Southeast Asia, education for sustainability and environmental education as well as sustainability and sustainable development more generally. Landmark Papers in Allergy Aziz Sheikh, Thomas Platts-Mills, Allison Worth, 2013-02-28. The increasing incidence and prevalence of allergic disease worldwide is one of the most remarkable phenomena of the past 50 years. One in three people in developed countries will experience an allergic condition at some point in their lives and advances in understanding the causes of this trend and in allergy treatment and care have captured the imagination of scientists, clinicians and the public. Landmark Papers in Allergy is a definitive collection of over 90 papers charting key discoveries and scientific advances in relation to allergy and the development of treatment and care for allergic disorders. Comprehensive in its coverage, the book includes the first clear descriptions of allergic diseases, the major advances in treatments such as the discovery of antihistamines, cortisone, biological therapies and immunotherapy, the great immunological advances such as the discovery of immunoglobulin E (IgE) and leukotrienes, the possible factors behind the increase in allergy such as the house dust mite, changes in hygiene and diet, and the growing understanding of the social, psychological and quality of life consequences of allergy. Including authoritative commentaries from leading international experts providing reflections on the historical importance and current relevance of each landmark paper Landmark papers in Allergy is essential reading for any clinician or academic with an interest in allergy

Handbook on Gender and Health Jasmine Gideon, 2016-05-27 This Handbook brings together a groundbreaking collection of chapters that uses a gender lens to explore health care and health policy in both the Global South and North. Empirical evidence is drawn from a variety of different settings and points to the many ways in which the gendered dimensions of health have become reworked across the globe. This collection includes insightful contributions from 56 leading authorities from Africa, the Americas, Asia, Europe, and the Middle East, offering a wealth of knowledge, theoretical reflection, and empirical detail on the essential elements surrounding gender and health. Topics covered include theoretical approaches to understanding gender and health, migration, sexuality, ageing, masculinities, climate change, and sexual and reproductive rights. Split into four thematic sections, this book strives to develop a clear road map towards achieving gender justice in health. The Handbook on Gender and Health will be an important resource for researchers, students, and instructors of health policy and family and gender studies. Contributors include: G. Alvarez, M. E.
