Policing Rape Katrin Hohl,Elizabeth A. Stanko,2024-07-05 The policing of rape is in permacrisis This book addresses the question of why police investigations continue to fail most rape victim survivors and puts forward a framework for what policing can do to change this Low conviction rates and poor victim survivor experiences are the hallmarks of the rape justice gap Three decades of research policy and legal changes have tweaked rape investigations to alleviate some of their ills however for the majority of victim survivors the process remains gruelling Police forces are notoriously resistant to reform even in the face of rapidly declining public trust The starting point of this book is the recognition that if we want profound change in policing we must try something new To do so the authors move from asking What is it about rape that makes it so difficult for police to investigate it well to asking What is it about the police that makes it so difficult for police to investigate rape well Policing Rape sets out a practice oriented theoretical framework for radically and sustainably transforming rape investigations rape prevention and the quality of officer engagement with victim survivors The authors reflect on the journey of putting this framework into practice within Operation Soteria Bluestone as a step on the path towards a radical transformation of rape policing This book is essential reading for all those looking to understand and improve the policing of rape    Drug Law Enforcement, Policing and Harm Reduction Matthew Bacon,Jack Spicer,2022-12-30 The policing of drugs is an intriguing complex and contentious domain that brings into sharp focus the multifaceted nature of the police role and has farreaching consequences for health crime and justice While research on drugs policing has historically been surprisingly sparse fragmented and underdeveloped the field has recently become a burgeoning area of academic study influenced by contemporary trends in policing practices changes in drug policy and wider social movements This book makes a much needed interdisciplinary and international contribution that engages with established and emerging areas of scholarship advances cutting edge debates and sets an agenda for future directions in drugs policing Drug Law Enforcement Policing and Harm Reduction is the first edited collection to devote its attention exclusively to drugs policing It brings together a range of leading scholars to provide a deep and thorough account of the current state of knowledge In addition to academic analysis authors also include serving police officers and policymakers who have influenced how drugs policing is framed and carried out Together the contributors draw on a diverse set of empirical studies and theoretical perspectives with the thread running throughout the book being the concept of harm reduction policing With accounts from various countries localities and contexts topics covered include the in effectiveness and un intended consequences of the war on drugs attempts to reform drugs policing and the role of partnerships and policy networks The broader theme of inequality lies at the heart of this collection An accessible and compelling read this book will be of interest to academics and students of criminology public health and social policy especially those researching policing drug policy and harm reduction It also offers valuable insights and practical guidance for professionals working in the drugs field     Handbook of Innovation and Regulation Pontus Braunerhjelm,Martin Andersson,Knut Blind,Johan E.
