Building a Positive Math Identity Liesl McConchie, 2025-09-01 When brain science meets math success Emotions drive learning This is an essential component of understanding how a student's math identity is closely connected to their math success How a student sees themselves in relation to math is dynamically constructed in their brain and is constantly changing Every learner deserves to exist in harmony with mathematics This book shows you how to make that mantra a reality for all students Liesl McConchie offers an exciting new perspective on math identity through her extensive research on how the brain learns Liesl walks readers through cognitive neuroscience in a humorous and friendly way using metaphors and everyday stories to explain how emotions and cognition interact She offers engaging and simple brain based strategies and activities to implement in the classroom In Building a Positive Math Identity A Brain Science Approach Liesl Translates complex brain science principles for educators in an accessible and engaging way Provides practical exercises and lessons that you can use in classroom right away Shares real world stories that provide deeper insight into how math identity is shaped over the years Offers activities to help teachers gain insight into the math identities of our students Guides teachers to explore our own math identity and the impact it can have on our students Most important the book pushes back on the prevailing message about math identity that tends to focus on student efficacy alone This approach puts the burden on the individual which can lead to additional oppression of those who have been most marginalized in math Here's our opportunity as educators to reexamine what it means to have a positive math identity and to learn to use brain based tools to build on a positive math identity for our students from the earliest ages Understanding Gish Jen Jennifer Ann Ho, 2015-11-30 Jennifer Ann Ho introduces readers to a typical American writer Gish Jen the author of four novels Typical American Mona in the Promised Land The Love Wife and World and Town a collection of short stories Who's Irish and a collection of lectures Tiger Writing Art Culture and the Interdependent Self Jen writes with an engaging sardonic and imaginative voice illuminating themes common to the American experience immigration assimilation individualism the freedom to choose one's path in life and the complicated relationships that we have with our families and our communities A second generation Chinese American Jen is widely recognized as an important American literary voice at once accessible philosophical and thought provoking In addition to her novels she has published widely in periodicals such as the New Yorker Atlantic Monthly and Yale Review Ho traces the evolution of Jen's career her themes and the development of her narrative voice In the process she shows why Jen's observations about life in the United States though revealed through the perspectives of her Asian American and Asian immigrant characters resonate with a variety of audiences who find themselves reflected in Jen's accounts of love grief desire disappointment and the general domestic experiences that shape all our lives Following a brief biographical sketch Ho examines each of Jen's major works showing how she traces the transformation of immigrant dreams into mundane life explores the limits of self identification and characterizes problems of cross national communication alongside the universal problems of aging and generational conflict Looking beyond Jen s fiction work a final chapter examines her essays and her concerns and stature as a public intellectual and detailed primary and secondary bibliographies provide a valuable point of departure for both teaching and future scholarship Improving Writing in California Schools California.
