

Chapter 2 Tax Compliance, the IRS, and Tax Authorities

SOLUTIONS MANUAL

Discussion Questions

- (1) [LO1] Name three factors that determine whether a taxpayer is required to file a tax return.

Filing status (e.g., single, married filing joint, etc.), age, and the taxpayer's gross income.

- (2) [LO1] Benita is concerned that she will not be able to complete her tax return by April 15. Can she request an extension to file her return? By what date must she do so? Assuming she requests an extension, what is the latest date that she could file her return this year without penalty?

Benita can file an automatic six-month extension to file her tax return – form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. This extension must be filed by April 15th. October 15th is the latest date she can file her return without penalty. If October 15th falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday, the extended due date will be the 1st day after October 15th that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday.

- (3) [LO1] Agua Linda Inc. is a calendar-year corporation. What is the original due date for the corporate tax return? What happens if the original due date falls on a Saturday?

The original due date for Agua Linda Inc.'s corporate tax return is April 15th. If the 15th falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday, the due date will be the 1st day after April 15th that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday. In this example, Agua Linda Inc.'s due date is April 17th (i.e., the Monday after Saturday the 15th).

- (4) [LO2] Approximately what percentage of tax returns does the IRS audit? What are the implications of this number for the IRS's strategy in selecting returns for audit?

Currently, less than 1 percent of all tax returns are audited. The IRS must be strategic in selecting returns for audit in an effort to promote the highest level of voluntary taxpayer compliance.

finally community leadership This progressive approach effectively allows readers to build their knowledge and pull threads of learning into the next component of the unique model Each chapter also features cases studies multiple interactive exercises and discussion questions which helps complete understanding from theory to practice This is an ideal text for students starting their leadership journey or for practitioners hoping to improve their leadership and management skills Online resources will include additional exercises to augment learning

The Intellectual Capital of Schools Anthony Kelly, 2007-05-08 A teacher may get good even astounding results from his pupils while he is teaching them and yet not be a good teacher because it may be that while his pupils are directly under his influence he raises them to a height which is not natural to them without fostering their own capacities for work at this level so that they immediately decline again as soon as the teacher leaves the classroom Ludwig Wittgenstein 1889 1951 It is difficult to measure effectiveness in not for profit organisations like schools colleges and universities There is no bottom line against which to gauge performance they have limited technical development and managers struggle to make meaningful comparisons between outcomes and targets In education well publicised attempts have been made to establish some would say impose a set of criteria by which organisations judge success or failure These have been largely subjective the percentage of inspected classes regarded as good the extent to which staff is involved in decision making the appropriateness of the leadership shown by senior managers and so on if occasionally peppered with quantitative measures like the percentage of students achieving certain grades in public examinations to sustain the illusion of objectivity This is not to fault the aspiration necessarily though initially at least it created a surveillance culture in schools that did justice to neither the inspected nor the argument for inspection Happily this is changing
