Organizing Maria Avila, 2023-07-03 Maria Avila presents a personal account of her experience as a teenager working in a factory in Ciudad Juarez to how she got involved in community organizing She has since applied the its distinctive practices of community organizing to civic engagement in higher education demonstrating how this can help create a culture that values and rewards civically engaged scholarship and advance higher education s public democratic mission Adapting what she learned during her years as an organizer with the Industrial Areas Foundation she describes a practice that aims for full reciprocity between partners and is achieved through the careful nurturing of relationships a mutual understanding of personal narratives leadership building power analysis and critical reflection She demonstrates how she implemented the process in various institutions and in various contexts and shares lessons learned Community organizing recognizes the need to understand the world as it is in order to create spaces where stakeholders can dialogue and deliberate about strategies for creating the world as we would like it to be Maria Avila offers a vision and process that can lead to creating institutional change in higher education in communities surrounding colleges and universities and in society at large This book is a narrative of her personal and professional journey and of how she has gone about co creating spaces where democracy can be enacted and individual institutional and community transformation can occur In inviting us to experience the process of organizing and in keeping with its values and spirit she includes the voices of the participants in the initiatives in which she collaborated stakeholders ranging from community partners to faculty students and administrators in higher education

Higher education's response to the Covid-19 pandemic Sjur Bergan, Tony Gallagher, Ronaldo Munck, Hilligje van't Land, 2021-02-15 A particularly timely book given the high proportion of international students and staff in higher education Public health was the immediate concern when the Covid 19 pandemic struck in Asia then in Europe and other parts of the world The response of our education systems is no less vital Higher education has played a major role in responding to the pandemic and it must help shape a better more equitable and just post Covid 19 world This book explores the various responses of higher education to the pandemic across Europe and North America with contributions also from Africa Asia and South America The contributors write from the perspective of higher education leaders with institutional responsibility as well as from that of public authorities or specialists in specific aspects of higher education policy and practice Some contributions analyse how specific higher education institutions reacted while others reflect on the impact of Covid 19 on key issues such as internationalisation finance academic freedom and institutional autonomy inclusion and equality and public responsibility The book describes the various ways in which higher education is facing the Covid 19 pandemic It is designed to help universities specifically their staff and students as well as their partners contribute to a more sustainable and democratic future

A VISION OF NEP 2020 - INDIA'S 2047 ON HIGHER EDUCATION Dr. M. Mani, Dr. C. Ashok Kumar, 2023-08-10 Education is most powerful weapon for future development In 21st century we saw that world of education is changing every moment The Indian government has announced its ambitious vision for the country to become a developed nation by the year 2047 This announcement was made on the occasion of India's 75th anniversary of independence and the government has laid out a roadmap to achieve this goal The first step to achieving India's HEI goals by 2047 is redesigning the higher education institutions HEI architecture for a resilient and student centric ecosystem The new policies must bridge the gap between education and the average Indian who no longer wants to be tied to traditional time bound degrees HEI must make skill development an integral part of the curriculum allowing students to learn at their pace and charting their learning course The onus is on each stakeholder to keep the student at the center as they redesign the higher education architecture By focusing on the strengths of its higher education system and acknowledging areas that need to be reformed India can meet its own students needs and attract students from around the world Learning Through Community Engagement Judyth Sachs, Lindie Clark, 2016-08-10 This book charts the development of a whole institution approach to university community engagement at a modern Australian university highlighting the pivotal role that curriculum renewal can play in organizational transformation It describes how Macquarie University's PACE Professional and Community Engagement program developed and fostered a culture of learning that has been at the center of academic renewal differentiation and institutional change It details the development of the PACE pedagogical model the establishment of the network of stakeholder relationships which underpin it and the embedding of the model across the whole institution Authored by those directly involved in the change project this book tells the story of PACE its achievements challenges success factors and future directions A series of dovetailing contributions by leading international scholars of university community engagement set the PACE story in its global context This book adds to the scholarship of learning through community engagement provides international perspectives on trends and issues in university community engagement contributes to a broader understanding of the practice and pedagogy of community engagement and discusses the challenges and opportunities of implementing and sustaining change in the higher education sector University-Community Engagement in the Asia Pacific Christopher S. Collins, 2017-01-12 This edited volume provides a framework for understanding academic public good and offers case studies and perspectives as in depth examples of the ways in which colleges and universities engage with the community to produce social benefits Focusing on the Asia Pacific region the authors discuss examples of engagement that produce consciousness partnerships and services that are broadly available to the public and enhance the progress of society The authors argue that unlike an individual degree these are public benefits that should be focused upon and featured more readily so that the breadth of university benefits come to be better understood

Higher Education Pathways Ashwin, Paul,Case, Jennifer M.,2018-12-14 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues

Research and Evaluation in Community, Health and Social Care Settings Suzanne Guerin,Nóirín Hayes,Sinéad McNally,2017-12-12 How can we develop a comprehensive understanding of the research process in community health and social care settings Covering all stages of the research process from funding to dissemination this book considers the views of funders researchers communities and policy makers Drawing on practical examples and relevant international literature it sheds light on issues that can arise in the process and presents solutions and strategies to deal with a range of challenges Organised around a series of themes that capture the essential elements of the research process including covering framing research in theory commissioning and designing research utilisation of findings and knowledge transfer this book provides practical guidance for those involved in child welfare and education nursing and clinical practices community studies and the social sciences It will be a key resource for all those who are interested in developing their understanding of the research and evaluation process in these areas

Integrative Learning Daniel Blackshields,James Cronin,Bettie Higgs,Shane Kilcommmins,Marian McCarthy,Anthony Ryan,2014-11-13 Current teaching learning and assessment practices can lead students to believe that courses within a programme are self sufficient and separate Integrative Learning explores this issue and considers how intentional learning helps students become integrative thinkers who can see connections in seemingly disparate information and draw on a wide range of knowledge to make decisions Written by international contributors who engaged reflectively with their teaching and their students learning the book seeks to develop a shared language of integrative learning encouraging students to adapt skills learned in one situation to problems encountered in another and make autonomous connections across courses between experiences and throughout their lives More informed teachers can help students develop the necessary attributes for intentional learning which include having a sense of purpose fitting fragmentary information into a learning framework understanding something of their own learning processes asking probing questions reflecting on their own choices and knowing when to ask for help Integrative Learning draws on international research and vast studies to provide the reader with the resources to ensure access to a unified learning experience The book discusses conceptual and technical tools necessary for facilitating integrative learning across a range of disciplines as well as providing learning pedagogies and considers integrative learning in the context of the relevance of higher education in the complexity and uncertainty of the 21st century It will appeal to academics and researchers in the field of higher education as well as those generating higher education curriculums
