Engineering the Financial Crisis Jeffrey Friedman,Wladimir Kraus,2011-09-01 The financial crisis has been blamed on reckless bankers irrational exuberance government support of mortgages for the poor financial deregulation and expansionary monetary policy Specialists in banking however tell a story with less emotional resonance but a better correspondence to the evidence the crisis was sparked by the international regulatory accords on bank capital levels the Basel Accords In one of the first studies critically to examine the Basel Accords Engineering the Financial Crisis reveals the crucial role that bank capital requirements and other government regulations played in the recent financial crisis Jeffrey Friedman and Wladimir Kraus argue that by encouraging banks to invest in highly rated mortgage backed bonds the Basel Accords created an overconcentration of risk in the banking industry In addition accounting regulations required banks to reduce lending if the temporary market value of these bonds declined as they did in 2007 and 2008 during the panic over subprime mortgage defaults The book begins by assessing leading theories about the crisis deregulation bank compensation practices excessive leverage too big to fail and Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac and through careful evidentiary scrutiny debunks much of the conventional wisdom about what went wrong It then discusses the Basel Accords and how they contributed to systemic risk Finally it presents an analysis of social science expertise and the fallibility of economists and regulators Engagingly written theoretically inventive yet empirically grounded Engineering the Financial Crisis is a timely examination of the unintended and sometimes disastrous effects of regulation on complex economies Business

Disaster and Climate Risk Education Ayse Yildiz, Rajib Shaw, 2024-09-30 Education serves as a cornerstone for gaining knowledge and taking initiative. However, despite efforts in disaster and climate risk education (DCRE), a gap often exists between awareness and meaningful action. To bridge this gap and promote a progression from awareness to empowerment, we offer the KIDA (Knowledge Interest Desire Action) framework. The foundation of this framework is a collaboration between schools, communities, and families, which calls for support from educational boards and local governments. Following international tragedies like the Turkey-Syria earthquake of 2023, as well as the ever-changing difficulties posed by climate change, DCRE has to be given priority immediately. Our book proposes a comprehensive strategy that includes governance, capacity building, education in schools, and the community, and technology integration. Our insights, analyses, and practical policy suggestions are based on multidisciplinary research and worldwide case studies with the goal of strengthening resilience and cultivating a generation committed to sustainability. This book provides a comprehensive exploration of DCRE. It aims to prepare individuals and communities to face the challenges of a changing world head-on by improving knowledge and promoting preparedness.
