A Vietnamese Moses George E. Dutton, 2017 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more A Vietnamese Moses is the story of Philip Binh a Vietnamese Catholic priest who in 1796 traveled from Tonkin to the Portuguese court in Lisbon to persuade its ruler to appoint a bishop for his community of ex Jesuits Based on Binh's surviving writings from his thirty seven year exile in Portugal this book examines how the intersections of global and local Roman Catholic geographies shaped the lives of Vietnamese Christians in the early modern era The book also argues that Binh's mission to Portugal and his intense lobbying on behalf of his community reflected the agency of Vietnamese Catholics who vigorously engaged with church politics in defense of their distinctive Portuguese Catholic heritage George E Dutton demonstrates the ways in which Catholic beliefs histories and genealogies transformed how Vietnamese thought about themselves and their place in the world This sophisticated exploration of Vietnamese engagement with both the Catholic Church and Napoleonic Europe provides a unique perspective on the complex history of early Vietnamese Christianity

Light Manufacturing in Vietnam Hinh T. Dinh, 2014-01-29 Based on a wide array of quantitative and qualitative techniques Light Manufacturing in Vietnam identifies key constraints on manufacturing enterprises in Vietnam and evaluates differences in firm performance across China and Vietnam      Secrets and Lies in Vietnam Panagiotis Dimitrakis, 2016-05-20 The Vietnam War lasted twenty years and was the USA's greatest military failure. An attempt to stem the spread of Soviet and Chinese influence, the conflict in practice created a chaotic state torn apart by espionage, terrorism, and guerilla warfare. American troops quickly became embroiled in jungle warfare and knowledge of the other side's troop movements, communication lines, fighting techniques, and strategy became crucial. Panagiotis Dimitrakis uncovers this battle for intelligence and tells the story of the Vietnam War through the newly available British, American, and French sources, including declassified material. In doing so, he dissects the limitations of the CIA, the NSA, the MI6, and the French intelligence, the SDECE, in gathering actionable intelligence. Dimitrakis also shows how the Vietminh, under Ho Chi Minh, established their own secret services, how their high-grade moles infiltrated the US and French military echelons, and the government of South Vietnam, and how Hanoi's intelligence apparatus eventually suffered seriously from spies, amongst us, paranoia. In doing so, he enhances our understanding of the war that came to define its era.

Transitions from Education to Work Roslyn Cameron, Subas Dhakal, John Burgess, 2017-11-22 Labour markets are becoming more dynamic in response to pressures from globalisation, new technologies, and trade agreements, as well as cross-border migration, inter-generation differences, changing education imperatives, and employer expectations. By focusing on several Asia-Pacific countries, this book explores the differences in their workforces: ageing or abundant in labour but lacking in skilled employees. One similarity these countries share is the difficulty in attracting and retaining employees with the required skillset and capabilities, and these constraints can stymie national economic growth and long-term development. This book brings together national and international perspectives on employability challenges faced by selected countries in the Asia-Pacific region. While the region is forecast to enjoy high growth in the coming decade, a recurring challenge is addressing skill shortages and ensuring effective transition from training colleges and universities into employment. Consequently, the book focuses on the roles of multiple stakeholders: primarily governments, education providers, and employers, in more effectively addressing these key socio-economic challenges.      Covert Regime Change Lindsey A. O'Rourke, 2018-12-15 Lindsey A. O'Rourke is Assistant Professor of Political Science at Boston College. Her research focuses on regime change, international security, and US foreign policy.      Saigon at War Heather Marie Stur, 2020-06-11 An examination of the political and cultural dynamism of the Republic of Vietnam until its collapse on April 30, 1975.

Dictionary of the Modern Politics of Southeast Asia Joseph Chinyong Liow, 2014-11-20 The past two decades since the end of the Cold War have been years of remarkable change and transformation for Southeast Asia. Long seen as an arena for superpower rivalry, Southeast Asia is increasingly coming into its own by locating itself at the forefront of regional integration initiatives that involve not only the Association of Southeast Asian Nations but major external powers such as the United States, China, India, Japan, and Australia, as well. At the same time, the past two decades have seen the revival of old animosities as well as the emergence of new security challenges confronting the region Old animosities include unresolved territorial disputes while new challenges range from regional and global financial crises terrorism and pandemics Significant changes within the ten Southeast Asian countries covered in this book have also transpired that have affected not only the complexion of domestic politics but have also impacted regional diplomacy as well such as the creation of potentially the eleventh Southeast Asian country Timor Leste Extensively updated and revised in light of these changes and developments this fourth edition of Dictionary of the Modern Politics of Southeast Asia contains profiles of each Southeast Asian country Following this it provides more than 450 alphabetically arranged individual entries providing detailed accounts and analyses on major episodes and treaties political parties and institutions civil society movements and regional and international organizations Biographies of significant political leaders and personalities both past and present are also provided Entries are comprehensively cross referenced and an index by country directs readers to all entries concerning a particular country The Dictionary also includes an extensive bibliography that serves as a guide to further reading It is an essential reference tool for all scholars and students of Asian politics and international affairs and a vital resource for journalists diplomats policy makers and others with an interest in the region

Liquid Empire Corey Ross,2024-07-09 A bold new account of European imperialism told through the history of water In the nineteenth and twentieth centuries a handful of powerful European states controlled more than a third of the land surface of the planet These sprawling empires encompassed not only rainforests deserts and savannahs but also some of the world s most magnificent rivers lakes marshes and seas Liquid Empire tells the story of how the waters of the colonial world shaped the history of imperialism and how this imperial past still haunts us today Spanning the major European empires of the period Corey Ross describes how new ideas technologies and institutions transformed human engagements with water and how the natural world was reshaped in the process Water was a realm of imperial power whose control and distribution were closely bound up with colonial hierarchies and inequalities but this vital natural resource could never be fully tamed Ross vividly portrays the efforts of officials engineers fisherfolk and farmers to exploit water and highlights its crucial role in the making and unmaking of the colonial order Revealing how the legacies of empire have persisted long after colonialism ebbed away Liquid Empire provides needed historical perspective on the crises engulfing the world's waters particularly in the Global South where billions of people are faced with mounting water shortages rising flood risks and the relentless depletion of sea life

Rejection of Victimhood in Literature Sean James Bosman, 2021-08-30 Transnational writers are increasingly opposed to representations of refugees exiles migrants and their descendants as emblematic victims With the rise of populist nationalisms in the USA and the UK in the eras of Trumpism Brexit and their aftermath targets of nationalist groups have increasingly been represented and thus constituted as individual suffering victims Certain groups embrace such representations They use them to secure help and protection for themselves Less scrupulous individuals may even embrace these representations to elide their own accountability and further nefarious goals This book examines an intriguing selection of writers to show how they are attempting to recalibrate such stories to reject victimhood It explores how just memory is deployed to ascribe agency to transnational characters

Going Nowhere Fast Sabina Lawreniuk, Laurie Parsons, 2020-08-06 Rising levels of global inequality and migrant flows are both critical global challenges Set within the Southeast Asian nation of Cambodia Going Nowhere Fast sets out to answer a question of global importance how does inequality persist in our increasingly mobile world Inequality is often referred to as the greatest threat to democracy society and economy and yet opportunity has apparently never been more accessible Long and short distance transport from motorbikes to aeroplanes are available to more people than ever before and telecommunications have transformed our lives ushering in an era of translocality in which the behaviour of people and communities is influenced from hundreds or even thousands of miles apart Yet amidst these complex flows of people ideas and capital persistent inequality cuts a jarringly static figure Going Nowhere Fast brings together a decade of research to examine this uneven development in Cambodia making a case for inequality as a total social fact rather than an economic phenomenon in which stories stigma obligation and assets combine to lock social structures in place Going Nowhere Fast Inequality in the Age of Translocality speaks from an in depth perspective to an issue of global relevance how inequality persists in our hypermobile world Focusing on pressing issues in Cambodia that resonate beyond it investigates how human movement within and across the nation's borders are intertwined with societal threats and challenges including of precarious labour and agricultural livelihoods climate and environmental change the phenomenon of land grabbing and the rise of popular nationalism

Identity Change and Foreign Policy Linus Hagstrom, 2015-10-05 Identity has become an explicit focus of International Relations theory in the past two to three decades with one case attracting and puzzling many early identity scholars Japan These constructivist scholars typically ascribed Japan a pacifist or antimilitarist identity an identity which they believed was constructed through the adherence to peaceful norms and antimilitarist culture Due to the alleged resilience of such adherences little change in Japan's identity and its international relations was predicted However in recent years Japan's foreign and security policies have begun to change in spite of these seemingly stable norms and culture This book seeks to address these changes through a pioneering engagement with recent developments in identity theory In particular most chapters theorize identity as a product of processes of differentiation Through detailed case analysis they argue that Japan's identity is produced and reproduced but also transformed through the drawing of boundaries between self and other In particular they stress the role of emotions and identity entrepreneurs as catalysts for identity change With the current balance between resilience and change contributors emphasize that more drastic foreign and security policy transformations might loom just beyond the horizon This book was originally published as a special issue of The Pacific Review
