ever increasing pressure on schools to be accountable for improving student achievement That pressure is taking the form of focused efforts around data driven decision making However very little is known about what data driven decision making can really tell one about improving achievement nor is there a full explanation available about what it really takes to do this work The few examples that do exist while proposing to get at some of these issues make huge assumptions about educators knowledge base and available resources necessary for success In this book Philip Streifer fills the gaps by laying out how this work can be done and then explains what is knowable when one actually conducts these analyses and what follow up steps are needed to make true improvements He provides readers with a comprehensive understanding of what data driven decision making can and cannot tell educators about student achievement and addresses the related issues for leadership policy development and accountability Senior level district administration for policy development school level administrators who have to put policy into practice and graduate college professors teaching data driven decision making will find this book most useful

The Far Horizons of Time H. Chris Ransford, 2015-04-24 What is Time Assuming no prior specialized knowledge by the reader the book raises specific hitherto overlooked questions about how time works such as how and why anyone can be made to be at the very same instant simultaneous with events that are actually days apart It examines abiding issues in the physics of time or at its periphery which still elude a full explanation such as delayed choice experiments the brain's perception of time during saccadic masking and more and suggests that these phenomena can only exist because they ultimately obey applicable mathematics thereby agreeing with a modern view that the universe and everything within it including the mind are ultimately mathematical structures It delves into how a number of conundrums such as the weak Anthropic Principle could be resolved and how such resolutions could be tested experimentally All its various threads converge towards a same new vision of the ultimate essence of time seen as a side effect from a deeper reality
