OECD,2023-06-22 The United States the world s largest economy has made progress in reducing several environmental pressures while maintaining one of the highest Gross Domestic Products per capita in the world It has decoupled emissions of greenhouse gases air pollutants water abstractions and domestic material consumption from economic and population growth Diagnosing the Indonesian Economy Hal Hill,Muhammad Ehsan Khan,Juzhong Zhuang,2013-10-01 Diagnosing the Indonesian Economy Toward Inclusive and Green Growth discusses the critical constraints to inclusive economic growth in Indonesia The volume includes a broad overview of Indonesia s development since the 1960s and features an analytic framework for the study that aims to identify the most binding constraints The chapters analyze macroeconomic management since the Asian financial crisis the status of Indonesia s industrial transformation the challenges pertaining to Indonesia s infrastructure the situation of human capital and employment the record on poverty reduction the impact and status of the decentralization effort and the challenges attendant to the country s environment and natural resources The Report: Indonesia 2015 Oxford Business Group,2015-05-21 With the application of the right policies Indonesia could return to growth above 6% and perhaps eventually reach the 7% target set by the new president The government intends to double expenditure in the key areas of public works transport and agriculture and new plans include the construction of 2600 km of roads 15 airports 24 ports 3258 km of railway and the addition of around 35 000 MW to the state electricity company s current capacity The investments to be made in infrastructure have the potential to boost the economy in both the short and long term A shift to more investment and less consumption would help lead to more sustainable growth and insulate the country from external shocks Already the numbers are starting to head in the right direction Global Environment Outlook 2000 United Nations Environment Programme,1999 This volume provides a comprehensive and detailed analysis of the conditions of the global environment highlighting key global concerns and making recommendations for policy action

Asia's New Multilateralism Michael J. Green,Bates Gill,2009-02-25 Traditionally stability in Asia has relied on America s bilateral alliances with Japan Australia and the Republic of Korea Yet in recent years emergent and more active multilateral forums such as the Six Party Talks on North Korea and the East Asia Summit have taken precedence engendering both cooperation and competition while reflecting the local concerns of the region Some are concerned that this process is moving toward less inclusive bloc based talking shops and that the future direction and success of these arrangements along with their implications for global and regional security and prosperity remain unclear The fifteen contributors to this volume all leading scholars in the field provide national perspectives on regional institutional architecture and their functional challenges They illuminate areas of cooperation that will move the region toward substantive collaboration convergence of norms and strengthened domestic institutions They also highlight the degree to which institution building in Asia a region composed of liberal democracies authoritarian regimes and anachronistic dictatorships has become an arena for competition among major powers and conflicting norms and assess the future shape of Asian security architecture The Biodiversity

Observation Network in the Asia-Pacific Region Shin-ichi Nakano,Tetsukazu Yahara,Tohru Nakashizuka,2012-07-26

Biological diversity is important for ecosystem function and services which in turn is essential for human well being Under the Convention on Biological Diversity international efforts have been made to achieve a significant reduction in the current rate of biodiversity loss The loss continues however The Asia Pacific region includes both developing countries with high biodiversity and developed countries with sophisticated data collection and analyses but only limited information about the status quo of biodiversity in this region has been available Many Asia Pacific countries have rapidly grown their economies and social infrastructures causing a loss of biodiversity and requiring an urgent mandate to achieve a balance between development and conservation in the region In December 2009 scientists successfully organized the Asia Pacific Biodiversity Observation Network in the region to establish a network for research and monitoring of ecosystems and biodiversity and to build a cooperative framework The present volume is the first collection of information on biodiversity in the Asia Pacific and represents a quantum step forward in science that optimizes the synergy between development and biodiversity conservation

Indonesia Reports - Log ,2006 Community, Environment and Local Governance in Indonesia Carol Warren,John F. McCarthy,2012-09-10 This book explores the forces reconfiguring local resource governance in Indonesia since 1998 drawing together original field research undertaken in a decade of dramatic political change Case studies from across Indonesia s diverse cultural and ecological landscapes focus on the most significant resource sectors agriculture fisheries forestry mining and tourism providing a rare in depth view of the dynamics shaping social and environmental outcomes in these varied contexts Debates surrounding the tragedy of the commons and environmental governance have focused on institutional considerations of how to craft resource management arrangements in order to further the policy objectives of economic efficiency social equity and environmental sustainability The studies in this volume reveal the complexity of resource security issues affecting local communities and user groups in Indonesia as they engage with wider institutional frameworks in a context driven simultaneously by decentralizing and globalizing forces Through ground up investigations of how local groups with different cultural backgrounds and resource bases are responding to the greater autonomy afforded by Indonesia s new political constellation the authors appraise the prospects for rearticulating governance regimes toward a more equitable and sustainable commonweal This volume offers valuable insights into questions of import to scholars as well as policy makers concerned with decentralized governance and sustainable resource management OECD Review of Agricultural Policies: Indonesia 2012 OECD,2012-10-19 This Review undertaken in close co operation with the Indonesian Ministry of Agriculture assesses the performance of Indonesian agriculture over the last two decades evaluates Indonesian agricultural policy reforms and provides recommendations World Directory of Country Environmental Studies Sean Gordon,Daniel B. Tunstall,1996 This annotated bibliography offers information on the content and availability of studies of environmental and natural resource conditions around the world Revised and expanded from the 1993 edition it includes reports from OECD countries Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union International Relations in Southeast Asia Donald E. Weatherbee, 2009 This balanced comprehensive guide to Southeast Asian politics offers a sensible but nondogmatic realist approach to the region's international relations In this revised second edition Donald E Weatherbee lucidly explains the dynamics of the Southeast Asian subsystem as a struggle for autonomy in pursuit of national interests He explores three important questions the answers to which will shape the future Southeast Asia Will democratic regimes transform international relations in Southeast Asia Will national leaders succeed in reinventing ASEAN as a more effective collaborative mechanism Finally how will the evolving Chinese position balancing and perhaps displacing the United States as Asia's great power affect Southeast Asia's struggle for autonomy Dictionary of Environmental and Sustainable Development Alan Gilpin, 1996-06-06 This superb concise dictionary comprises over 2 000 entries defining terms and concepts relating to environmental planning management conservation and sustainable development The text includes diagrams and boxes covering the whole span of environmental issues with the emphasis on international conventions environmental law environmental evolution in many countries pollution control environmental impact assessment sustainable development inter generational equity Containing more entries than any other previously published dictionary of its kind this book is an essential reference for students environmental managers politicians and journalists China-ASEAN

Environment Outlook 1 (CAEO-1) China-ASEAN Environmental Cooperation, 2017-09-25 This book presents a comprehensive analysis of the status and progress of China ASEAN green development and examines the common development issues in China and ASEAN Member States AMSs It also explores development trends within the framework of global and regional environmental governance and discusses the approaches towards green development in China and AMSs offering its own definition of green development and using a pressure state response PSR model to build a framework for assessing green development The book includes typical policy measures and numerous practices for green development in China and AMSs in the form of tables figures and boxes Based on detailed analysis it argues that the global 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development brings significant opportunities to China and AMSs that the ongoing pragmatic cooperation should be further advanced and that a connection between the Belt and Road Initiative and green ASEAN Community should be established to achieve regional sustainable development As such it furthers readers understanding of environment and development and practical policy advice for promoting China ASEAN cooperation on environment and green development Intended for decision makers from the government business sector and civil societies who are working to boost green development and China ASEAN cooperation it is also a valuable resource for government officials researchers and non experts interested in creating a balanced relationship between the environment and development Water Quality Policy and Management in Asia Cecilia Tortajada, 2014-10-14 Asia's 48 countries have an estimated 1 757 billion urban population and 2 4 billion people in rural areas or approximately 60 per cent of the global population Divided into central eastern southern south eastern and western regions the continent is also extremely heterogeneous in terms of water quality conditions The policies and management practices vary significantly from one country to another and even within one country depending on specific economic political social environmental legal and institutional factors In order to appreciate the complexities associated with water quality policy and management it is important to acknowledge the multiplicity of interrelated and often conflicting events issues actors and interests both within and outside the water sector that impact them This complexity alongside institutional inability for systematic and coordinated collaboration are potent reasons as to why in the second decade of the 21st century formulation and implementation of efficient water quality management policies benefitting humankind and the environment have still not been achieved The book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Water Resources Development

Southeast Asian Affairs 2001 Daljit Singh, 2003-08-01 Southeast Asian Affairs of which there are now twenty eight in the series is an annual review of significant developments and trends in the region Though the emphasis is on ASEAN countries developments in the broader Asia Pacific region are not ignored Readable and easily understood analyses are offered of major political economic social and strategic developments within Southeast Asia The contributions can be divided into two broad categories There are those which provide an analysis of major developments during 2000 in individual Southeast Asian countries and in the region generally Then there are the theme articles of a more specialized nature which deal with topical problems of concern This volume contains twenty three articles dealing with such major themes as international conflict and co operation political stability and economic growth and development

Environmental Assessment in Developing and Transitional Countries Norman Lee, Clive George, 2013-06-10 Since the 1980s and especially since the Rio Earth Summit in 1992 there has been a substantial extension in the adoption and use of Environmental Assessment EA procedures in developing countries and countries in transition low and middle income countries However few existing texts in environmental assessment or development studies have reflected this trend sufficiently until this publication Divided into two main parts EA Principles Processes and Practice Country and Institutional Studies of EA Procedures and Practice This book explains the essentials of environmental impact association in the context of developing countries and assesses its importance to both developed and developing countries

Global Warming and Climate Change A. Marquina, 2010-02-24 This compendium looks at Asian and European policies for dealing with climate change and possible impacts on conflicts and security It clarifies the impacts of climate change on natural resources on the frequency and expansion of natural disasters and the repercussions for environmentally induced migration
