- Management's activities and responsibilities can be classified into the following three broad functions

➤ Planning

- It requires management to look ahead and to establish objectives. These objectives are often diverse: maximizing short-term profits and market share, maintaining a commitment to environmental protection, and contributing to social programs

➤ Directing

- Directing involves coordinating a company's diverse activities and human resources to produce a smoothly running operation. This includes implementing planned objectives and providing necessary incentives to motivate employees.

➤ Controlling

- It is the process of keeping the company's activities on track. In controlling operations, managers determine whether planned goals are being achieved. When there are deviations from target objectives, managers must decide what changes are needed to get back on track.

Organizational Chart:

- Organizational charts identify the interrelationships of activities, the delegation of authority and the delegation of responsibility
- Responsibilities within the company are frequently classified as either line or staff positions
