enrichment, challenge and equity Morgan Whitfield,2024-07-19 Gifted and talented is a zombie It is dead but still walking around There are new labels to stratify students more able significantly able high aptitude learners New labels do not equal new thinking The concept of gifted is still stubbornly embedded in our educational structures with its legacy of social immobility racism and sexism Students can be more able when they have more financial resources more access more visibility or more cultural acceptance There are pervasive narratives that educators should prioritise extension for some students and not others We can dispel the myth that pitching lessons judiciously to middle ability and then differentiating up and down is effective This book explores how we can provide every student with rigorous challenge Challenge for all is an inclusive approach to teaching whereby every student is invited and given the tools to reach a place of mastery This can be through project based learning Harkness round tables oracy adaptive teaching inclusive enrichment programs dynamic classroom strategies and a schoolwide mission for equity Educators can embed powerful knowledge into the curriculum reimagine teaching to the top and stretch learners through personalised and responsive instruction The shift to enrichment challenge and equity creates magnificent possibilities The message to all students is you belong here     The Psychology of Education Martyn Long, Clare Wood, Karen Littleton, Terri Passenger, Kieron Sheehy, 2010-11-05 Written in an accessible and engaging style this second edition of The Psychology of Education addresses key concepts from psychology which relate to education Throughout the text the author team emphasise an evidence based approach providing practical suggestions to improve learning outcomes while fictional case studies are used in this new edition to provide students with a sense of what psychological issues can look like in the classroom Activities around these case studies give students the chance to think about how to apply their theoretical knowledge to these real world contexts Key implications are drawn out at appropriate points and throughout the book students are provided with strategies for interrogating evidence Key terms are glossed throughout the book and chapters are summarised and followed by suggestions for further reading A chapter on Learning interactions and social worlds is new to this edition The following chapters have all been extensively updated Learning Assessment Individual differences and achievement Student engagement and motivation The educational context Society and culture Language Literacy Inclusive education and special educational needs Behaviour problems Dealing with behaviour problems This book is essential reading for undergraduate students of Education Studies and Psychology as well as trainee teachers on BA BEd and PGCE courses It will also be of use to postgraduates training to be educational psychologists
