1. B Reputation is the way people think of someone or something. ("Everyone trusts Mr. Jones. He has a good reputation.") Reputation is the only word that makes sense in this context. Reparation is a payment made by someone for doing something wrong. ("The judge made the thief pay reparations to his victims.")
2. C Recently means "not long ago." Lately has about the same meaning but can't be used to modify a verb such as expanded. We can say, "Lately, we have had several problems," and "Recently, we have had several problems." However, you can only say, "Things have recently changed." You cannot say, "Things have lately changed." Shortly means "in a short time." ("He will arrive shortly.") Nearly means "almost." ("She was nearly late.")
3. A Furthermore is used to express the idea of addition. The previous sentence says that ReefCo has a superior and dependable fleet. This sentence adds the idea that ReefCo has good customer service.
4. D Something and everything are used only for inanimate things. Anyone and someone can be used for people or sometimes, organizations. Anyone should be used here because this sentence has a negative verb (don't trust). Compound words with any- are used in negative sentences and questions while compound words with some- are used in affirmative statements. This sentence really means "Don't trust your good name to a company that you don't know about."
5. B Of these four verbs, only requested is used before an inanimate object without a preposition. In other words, you can say "request a password" but you must say "ask for a passport" or "inquire about a passport." The verb questioned is used only with a person as an object. ("The police questioned the suspect.")
6. D The verb retrieve means "get back" and is the only logical choice here.
7. A Of the four choices, only the adverb-clause marker once, meaning "after," is possible here. Choice D, afterwards, is used at the end of a sentence or clause. ("We went swimming. We were hungry afterwards.")

8. B The noun clause that _____ is an automatically generated email needs a subject. Only choice B, this, is a logical subject. This means "this email."
9. D The noun advice is correct here. Choice B, advise, is a verb.
10. A The noun-clause marker what is correct here.
11. C The verb makes, meaning "cause," takes the simple form of the verb, stand.
12. B A reflexive pronoun (a pronoun that ends in -self or -selves) is used when the person who does the action is the same as the person who receives the action. In this case, you sell yourself, so the reflexive pronoun is correct here. The singular form yourself is correct rather than the plural yourselves because in this kind of article, the writer is addressing one reader. For example, the writer of a cookbook might write, "You must be careful not to burn yourself," not "You must be careful not to burn yourselves."

Social Inequality in a Global Age Scott Sernau, 2016-05-04 This updated Fifth Edition of Scott Sernau's acclaimed text provides a sociological framework for analyzing inequality within the United States in the context of global stratification and a rapidly changing world economy. With insightful analysis, the text provides an accessible introduction to stratification systems and the structural and personal realities of growing class divides. Using examples drawn straight from today's headlines, Sernau explores each dimension of inequality as he analyzes the relationship between changing global power and growing inequalities within countries. Throughout, a focus on social action and community engagement encourages students to become involved, active learners in the classroom and engaged citizens in their communities.

Power in the Global Age Ulrich Beck, 2014-10-15 This brilliant new book by one of Europe's leading social thinkers throws light on the global power games being played out between global business, nation states, and movements rooted in civil society. Beck offers an illuminating account of the changing nature of power in the global age and assesses the influence of the ever-expanding counter powers. The author puts forward the provocative thesis that in an age of global crises and risks, a politics of golden handcuffs, the creation of a dense network of transnational interdependencies is exactly what is needed in order to regain national autonomy, not least in relation to a highly mobile world economy. It is imperative that the maxim of nation-based realpolitik, that national interests have necessarily to be pursued by national means, be replaced by the maxim of cosmopolitan realpolitik. The more cosmopolitan our political structures and activities, Beck suggests, the more successful they will be in promoting national interests, and the greater our individual power in this global age will be.

Chemistry Education and Sustainability in the Global Age Mei-Hung Chiu, Hsiao-Lin Tuan, Hsin-Kai Wu, Jing-Wen Lin, Chin-Cheng Chou, 2012-12-05 This edited volume of papers from the twenty-first International Conference on Chemical Education attests to our rapidly changing understanding of the chemistry itself as well as to the potentially enormous material changes in how it might be taught in the future. Covering the full range of appropriate topics, the book features work exploring themes as various as e-learning and innovations in instruction and micro-scale lab chemistry. In sum, the 29 articles published in these pages focus the reader's attention on ways to raise the quality of chemistry teaching and learning, promoting the public understanding of chemistry, deploying innovative technology in pedagogy, practice, and research, and the value of chemistry as a tool for highlighting sustainability issues in the global community. Thus, the ambitious dual aim achieved in these pages is, on the one hand, to foster improvements in the teaching and communication of chemistry, whether to students or the public, and secondly, to promote advances in our broader understanding of the subject that will have positive knock-on effects on the world's citizens and environment. In doing so, the book addresses, as did the conference, the neglect suffered in the chemistry classroom by issues connected to globalization, even as it outlines ways to bring the subject alive in the classroom through the use of innovative technologies.

The Politics of Labor in a Global Age Christopher Candland,Rudra Sil,2001-09-20 The Politics of Labor in a Global Age is one of the first works to analyse and compare recent shifts in patterns of industrial relations across late industrializing and post socialist economies The volume features original and timely essays on labor relations at national local and workplace levels as economic and political actors cope with the similar challenges associated with economic adjustment measures and the impact of globalization The authors reveal that while globalization has threatened the position of organized labor and prompted business and state elites to accommodate greater labor market flexibility the legacies of past institutions remain evident in distinctive trends in labor politics within and across late industrializing and post socialist settings The comparisons suggest that globalization is best understood not as a source of convergence but as a set of common pressures that are mediated by specific historical inheritances that spur varied responses on the part of industrial relations actors and that facilitate quite diverse institutional outcomes

Chinese Education

Models in a Global Age Chuing Prudence Chou, Jonathan Spangler, 2016-04-06 China's rise and increasing emphasis on international education benchmarking and a global recognition of East Asian countries' success in this regard have brought the issue of Chinese education to the forefront of public consciousness. In particular, the concept of a Chinese education model is one that has sparked debate and quickly become a major focus of education research around the world, especially in light of regional achievements vis-à-vis university rankings, bibliometric indices, the Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA), Trends in International Mathematics and Science Study (TIMSS), and other such benchmarks. Chinese Education Models in a Global Age tackles this controversial issue head-on by synthesizing a diversity of analyses from a world-class team of twenty-seven authors. It reveals that Chinese education models, which are present in many different geographic and institutional contexts, have an important influence on social and institutional norms as well as individual belief systems and behaviors in China and beyond. The first of its kind, this edited volume establishes a foundation for future research while providing a nuanced and tightly integrated compilation of differing perspectives on the role and impact of Chinese education models worldwide. It is essential reading for all scholars, policymakers, students, parents, and educators interested in the rising demographic and economic influence of people of Chinese descent on education around the world.
