Leçons de littérature française classique Frédéric Leypoldt, 1867 Crowning Glories Harriet Stone, 2019-04-08 Crowning Glories integrates Louis XIV's propaganda campaigns the transmission of Northern art into France and the rise of empiricism in the eighteenth century three historical touchstones to examine what it would have meant for France's elite to experience the arts in France simultaneously with Netherlandish realist painting In an expansive study of cultural life under the Sun King Harriet Stone considers the monarchy's elaborate palace decors the court's official records and the classical theatre alongside Northern images of daily life in private homes urban markets and country fields Stone argues that Netherlandish art assumes an unobtrusive yet for the history of ideas surprisingly dramatic role within the flourishing of the arts both visual and textual in France during Louis XIV's reign Netherlandish realist art represented thinking about knowledge that challenged the monarchy's hold on the French imagination and its efforts to impose the king's portrait as an ideal and proof of his authority As objects appreciated for their aesthetic and market value Northern realist paintings assumed an uncontroversial place in French royal and elite collections Flemish and Dutch still lifes genre paintings and cityscapes however were not merely accoutrements of power acquisitions made by those with influence and money Crowning Glories reveals how the empirical orientation of Netherlandish realism exposed French court society to a radically different mode of thought one that would gain full expression in the Encyclopédie of Diderot and d'Alembert Les Livres de L'année ,1927 Œuvres complètes: L'amour médecin Molière,1956 The Bartlett Collection John Bartlett,Louise Rankin Albee,1896 Leçons de littérature française classique Ed Mennechet,1869 Le Theatre ,1909 Leçons de littérature française classique... Édouard Mennechet,1870 Oeuvres complètes Jean Baptiste Poquelin Moliere,1956
