

R. K. Narayan's The Guide: A Modern Version of a Panchatantra Tale

*Bhaskar Roy Barman

Abstract

This paper aims to deal with R. K. Narayan's novel, The Guide, as a modern version of a Panchatantra tale of a thief transformed into a saint. A unity of vision and tranquillity of temperament commingle in the novel. The language, in which the narration is couched, is generally luminous and lucid, metaphorically temperate and simple in syntax. The smooth conveyance of the novel's easy action to the readers imparts a sharp-eyed and taught feeling of gentleness in the portrayal of Narayan's character. Though this feeling verges on contemplative gentleness, Narayan's attitude is not that simple and encompasses expertness in defining the linked and confused territories of sincerity and self-deception. The complex association of sincerity and self-deception is indeed the organizing theme of the novel.

The story of the novel is closely interlinked with the experience R. K. Narayan was exposed to in his childhood which moulded his thinking of writing this novel. He owed conceptualizing the character of Raju, the hero of the novel, to his impression of the 'Super Guide' who guided him and his friends around the National Broadcasting Corporation Studios at the Rockefeller Center.

The idea of the story stemmed from his experience of a ritual fasting which led to the germination of the motif of 'enforced sainthood' in his mind before he visited the United States in 1957 in a new novel underpinning suffering due to enforcing of sainthood. The experience he gained of the ritual fasting provided him with the outline of the plot appurtenant to the subject he found himself contemplating. The paper details how the idea has materialized into the full-fledged novel.
