A History of Mediaeval Jewish Philosophy Isaac Husik, 1916 Philosophy in the Hellenistic and Roman Worlds Peter Adamson, 2015-08-28 Peter Adamson offers an accessible humorous tour through a period of eight hundred years when some of the most influential of all schools of thought were formed from the third century BC to the sixth century AD He introduces us to Cynics and Skeptics Epicureans and Stoics emperors and slaves and traces the development of Christian and Jewish philosophy and of ancient science Chapters are devoted to such major figures as Epicurus Lucretius Cicero Seneca Plotinus and Augustine But in keeping with the motto of the series the story is told without any gaps providing an in depth look at less familiar topics that remains suitable for the general reader For instance there are chapters on the fascinating but relatively obscure Cyrenaic philosophical school on pagan philosophical figures like Porphyry and Iamblichus and extensive coverage of the Greek and Latin Christian Fathers who are at best peripheral in most surveys of ancient philosophy A major theme of the book is in fact the competition between pagan and Christian philosophy in this period and the Jewish tradition also appears in the shape of Philo of Alexandria Ancient science is also considered with chapters on ancient medicine and the interaction between philosophy and astronomy Considerable attention is paid also to the wider historical context for instance by looking at the ascetic movement in Christianity and how it drew on ideas from Hellenic philosophy From the counter cultural witticisms of Diogenes the Cynic to the subtle skepticism of Sextus Empiricus from the irreverent atheism of the Epicureans to the ambitious metaphysical speculation of Neoplatonism from the ethical teachings of Marcus Aurelius to the political philosophy of Augustine the book gathers together all aspects of later ancient thought in an accessible and entertaining way
