The Inverted Classroom Model Jürgen Handke, Natalie Kiesler, Leonie Wiemeyer, 2013-10-24 When the 1st German Inverted Classroom Conference was staged in 2012 the organizers thought that it may have been the first and last conference of this kind Too few teachers seemed to be familiar with this model in the first place and only a tiny fragment of them would actually apply this model to their own teaching scenarios However in the 2013 conference we were overwhelmed with a large number of teachers who not only wanted to find out about this teaching and learning concept but had already used it Consequently the focus of the 2nd German Inverted Classroom Conference to which this conference volume is dedicated was no longer the installation of the Inverted Classroom Model ICM but fine adjustments in the actual application of it This is reflected in the contributions to this volume Even though all three central aspects of the ICM are addressed 1 content production and delivery 2 testing and 3 the in class phase there has been a shift away from mere content production towards an expansion of the model as well as a move towards fine adjustments of the three components

Madness and Creativity: Yes, No or Maybe? Anna Abraham, 2015-11-23 The pervasive idea that madness and creativity are intricately linked is one that holds tremendous fascination for both scientists and the general public alike Although this view was at first largely driven by anecdotal evidence showcasing the manifestation of mental illness in individuals who exhibited extraordinary levels of creativity in various spheres of life it initiated a strong impetus to empirically investigate the association between mental health and creativity A variety of approaches and combinations of approaches have been adopted to address this association including clinical personality psychometric behavioral cognitive historiometric and neuroscientific Despite the ever accumulating body of evidence over the past six decades investigating this link what is lacking is a comprehensive overview of the disparate findings from these different approaches that will enable us to address the question of whether there is an empirically founded relationship between creativity and mental illness And if such a link does exist what is the nature of this association The purpose of this Research Topic was to motivate theorists and researchers to answer this question or at least attempt to do so given the available evidence thus far The themes of interest that were open to exploration in view of this topic included a Which mental disorders are positively associated with creativity b Which mental disorders are negatively associated with creativity c The dynamics of information processing biases positive versus negative associated with psychiatric and high risk populations d Theories regarding the madness creativity link e Personality based studies on creativity f Creativity mental illness and the brain g Genes and creativity h How can studies on neurological populations inform this debate i What are the areas of impact with regard to real world applications and practice j Historical timeline of this question k Evolutionary perspectives on the madness creativity link l Methodological problems associated with this field m Philosophical issues to bear in mind when investigating this domain n The usefulness of the troubled genius concept The invitation to contribute was open to all interested academics regardless of whether they were seasoned explorers within this field of study or just beginning to get their feet wet in its murky waters As a result of adopting this inclusive approach the contributions showcase a wide variety of perspectives from academic departments and institutions the world over What is most encouraging is that so many were willing to openly take on the challenge of tackling this difficult question head on We hope future discussions that follow through as a result of this collective effort will prove to be just as fruitful bad And in light of recent polling disasters can we trust them at all Polling UnPacked gives us the full story from the first rudimentary polls in the nineteenth century through attempts by politicians to ban polling in the twentieth century to the very latest techniques and controversies from the last few years Equal parts enlightening and hilarious the book requires no prior knowledge of polling or statistics to understand But even hardened pollsters will find much to enjoy from how polling has been used to help plan military invasions to why an exhausted interviewer was accidentally instrumental in inventing exit polls Written by a former political pollster and the creator of Britain's foremost polling intention database Polling UnPacked reveals which opinion polls to trust which to ignore and which frankly to laugh at It will change the way we see political coverage forever

Fundamentals of Integrated Coastal Management A.

Vallega, 2013-06-29 by Elisabeth Mann Borgese Founder and Honorary President International Ocean Institute Adalberto

Vallega has been for decades a master and great teacher of integrated coastal management and Mediterranean cooperation. This new book of an almost encyclopaedic scope is a most original contribution to the rapidly growing literature on the subject of equal value to the academic community which will greatly appreciate the theoretical historic and philosophical underpinning of the work and to the practitioner the planner regulator and manager who will find in these pages most useful checklists for his duties and responsibilities. Vallega perceives the need for Integrated Coastal Area Management ICAM in the broader context of the ongoing third industrial revolution which he calls the trans industrial stage in its interaction with climate change. There have been profound changes in the economies of the industrialized countries. The development of the new High Technologies including micro electronics genetic engineering new materials has accelerated the transition from an economic system based primarily on production to one based very largely on services. This in turn has facilitated globalization of production systems and services including the financial system as well as the migration of people. The ongoing global Great People's Migration is generally from the hinterland to the coasts where already today over 60 percent of the human population resides exercising unprecedented pressures on the coastal and marine environment. Clearly this justifies the current emphasis at global regional and national levels on the need for coastal management.

The eleven cases in this volume cover the period 1834 to 2011 although interestingly no fewer than six of the cases were decided or reported in the 1980s. The names of the selected cases will be familiar to property lawyers. However individually the essays provide a reappraisal of the cases from a wide range of perspectives focusing on their historical social or theoretical context highlighting previously neglected aspects and even questioning their perceived importance. Collectively the essays explore several common themes that pervade the law of property the numerus clausus principle the conclusiveness of registration the desirability of certainty in the law and the central question of the enforceability of interests through changes in ownership of land. This volume provides a collection of essays that will be of interest to academics.
