Global Business Nader H. Asgary, Dina Frutos-Bencze, Massood V. Samii, Hossein Varamini, 2021-01-01 The arrival of the COVID-19 pandemic throughout the globe at the end of 2019 turned global business upside down. It forced the closure of many businesses, disrupted global supply chains, reduced travel across borders, and created fear about face-to-face interactions. As the lockdowns in many countries created uncertainty about the future business activities, global business leaders were scrambling to find new strategies to safely re-establish their business relationships with their stakeholders. The existing historical economic, social, and racial injustice in the American society toward Black Indigenous and People of Color was compounded by the COVID-19. This led to the movements of the Black Lives Matter to reenergize and become a global phenomenon. The horrific and sad death of George Floyd and many others triggered huge global movements to demand respect for human rights and dignity for all. Additionally, climate change and environmental degradation have caused unprecedented forest fires, more frequent and damaging hurricanes, and migration. Demand a revived global business book. This third edition of Global Business: An Economic, Social, and Environmental
