A Path Twice Traveled Paul A. Cohen, 2021-02-01 In this memoir Paul A Cohen one of the West's preeminent historians of China traces the development of his work from its inception in the early 1960s to the present offering fresh perspectives that consistently challenge us to think more deeply about China and the historical craft in general A memoir of course is itself a form of history But for a historian writing a memoir on one s career is quite different from the creation of that career in the first place This is what Cohen alludes to in the title A Path Twice Traveled The title highlights the important disparity between the past as originally experienced and the past as later reconstructed by which point both the historian and the world have undergone extensive change This distinction which conveys nicely the double meaning of the word history is very much on Cohen s mind throughout the book He returns to it explicitly in the memoir s final chapter appropriately titled Then and Now The Two Histories

Cutting Rhythms Karen Pearlman, 2015-12-07 There are many books on the technical aspects of film and video editing Much rarer are books on how editors think and make creative decisions Filled with timeless principles and thought provoking examples from a variety of international films the second edition of Karen Pearlman s Cutting Rhythms offers an in depth study of the film editor s rhythmic creativity and intuition the processes and tools editors use to shape rhythms and how rhythm works to engage audiences in film While respecting the importance of intuitive flow in the cutting room this book offers processes for understanding what editing intuition is and how to develop it This fully revised and updated edition contains New chapters on collaboration and editing thinking Advice on making onscreen drafts before finalizing your story Tips on how to create and sustain audience empathy and engagement Explanations of how rhythm is perceived learned practiced and applied in editing Updated discussions of intuition structure and dynamics An all new companion website www.focalpress.com/cw/pearlman with video examples and links for expanding and illustrating the principles of key chapters in the book Film, Art, and the Third Culture Murray Smith, 2017-03-24 In the mid 1950s C P Snow began his campaign against the two cultures the debilitating divide as he saw it between traditional literary intellectual culture and the culture of the sciences urging in its place a third culture which would draw upon and integrate the resources of disciplines spanning the natural and social sciences the arts and the humanities Murray Smith argues that with the ever increasing influence of evolutionary theory and neuroscience and the pervasive presence of digital technologies Snow's challenge is more relevant than ever Working out how the scientific and everyday images of the world hang together is no simple matter In Film Art and the Third Culture Smith explores this question in relation to the art technology and science of film in particular and to the world of the arts and aesthetic activity more generally In the first part of his book Smith explores the general strategies and principles necessary to build a third cultural or naturalized approach to film and art one that roots itself in an appreciation of scientific knowledge and method Smith then goes on to focus on the role of emotion in film and the other arts as an extended experiment in the third cultural integration of ideas on emotion spanning the arts humanities and sciences While acknowledging that not all of the questions we ask are scientific in nature Smith contends that we cannot disregard the insights wrought by taking a naturalized approach to the aesthetics of film and the other arts Twentieth-century Fiction Peter Verdonk (ured.), Jean Jacques Weber, 1995 By applying recent trends in literary and linguistic theory to a range of 20th Century fiction the contributors make new theoretical insights accessible to student readers An essential introduction to the subject Introduction to Media Production Gorham Kindem, Robert B. Musburger, PhD, 2012-08-21 Introduction to Media Production began years ago as an alternative text that would cover ALL aspects of media production not just film or just tv or just radio Kindem and Musburger needed a book that would show students how every form of media intersects with one another and about how one needs to know the background history of how film affects video and how video affects working in a studio and ultimately how one needs to know how to put it all together Introduction to Media Production is the book that shows this intersection among the many forms of media and how students can use this intersection to begin to develop their own high quality work Introduction to Media Production is a primary source for students of media Its readers learn about various forms of media how to make the best use of them why one would choose one form of media over another and finally about all of the techniques used to create a media project The digital revolution has exploded all the former techniques used in digital media production and this book covers the now restructured and formalized digital workflows that make all production processes by necessity digital This text will concentrate on offering students and newcomers to the field the means to become aware of the critical importance of understanding the end destination of their production as a part of pre production not the last portion of post production Covering film tv video audio and graphics the fourth edition of Introduction to Digital Media promises to be yet another comprehensive guide for both students of media and newcomers to the media industry Adaptation: Studying Film and Literature John Desmond, Peter Hawkes, 2006 This concise and readable new text for courses in Film Adaptation or Film and Literature introduces students to the art of adapting works of literature for film Adaptation describes the interwoven histories of literature and film presents key analytical approaches to adaptation and provides an in depth overview of adaptations of novels short stories plays nonfiction and animation The book concludes with an analysis of why adaptations sometimes fail Parameters of Disavowal Jinsoo An, 2018-06-08 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more The colonial experience of the early twentieth century shaped Korea's culture and identity leaving a troubling past that was subtly reconstructed in South Korean postcolonial cinema Relating postcolonial discourses to a reading of Manchurian action films kisaeng and gangster films and revenge horror films Parameters of Disavowal shows how filmmakers reworked recontextualized and erased ideas and symbols of colonial power In particular Jinsoo An examines how South Korean films privileged certain sites such as the kisaeng house and the Manchurian frontier generating unique meanings that challenged the domination of the colonial power and how horror films indirectly explored both the continuing trauma of colonial violence and lingering emotional ties to the colonial order Espousing the ideology of nationalism while responding to a new Cold War order that positioned Japan and South Korea as political and economic allies postcolonial cinema formulated distinctive ways of seeing and imagining the colonial past Introduction to Documentary, Fourth Edition Bill Nichols, Jaimie Baron, 2024 The fourth edition of Bill Nichols's best selling text Introduction to Documentary has been vastly altered in its entirety to bring this indispensable textbook up to date and reconceptualize aspects of its treatment of documentaries past and present Here Nichols with Jaimie Baron has edited each chapter for clarity and ease of use and expanded the book with updates and new ideas Featuring abundant examples and images Introduction to Documentary Fourth Edition is designed to facilitate a rich understanding of how cinema can be used to document the historical world as it is seen by a wide variety of filmmakers Subjectivity expressivity persuasiveness and credibility are crucial factors that move documentary film away from objective documentation and toward the thought provoking realm of arguments perceptions and perspectives that draw from a filmmaker's unique sensibility to help us see the world as we have not seen it before Exploring ethics history different modes of documentary key social issues addressed and both the origins and evolution of this form this updated volume also offers guidance on how to write about documentaries and how to begin the process of making one Introduction to Documentary Fourth Edition will be of use not only to film students but also those in adjacent fields where visual representations of reality play an important role journalism sociology anthropology feminist and ethnic studies among others

The Cinema of Hal Hartley Steven Rybin, 2016-12-27 Over the course of nearly thirty years Hal Hartley has cultivated a reputation as one of America's most steadfastly independent film directors. From his breakthrough films The Unbelievable Truth (1989), Trust (1990), and Simple Men (1992) to his recently completed Henry Fool trilogy, Hartley has honed a rigorous deadpan and instantly recognizable film style informed by both European modernism and playful revisions of Classical Hollywood genres. Featuring new essays on this important director and his films, this collection explores Hartley's work from a variety of aesthetic, cultural, and economic contexts while also looking closely at his collaborations with actors, the contexts of his authorial reputation, his reworking of the romantic comedy and other genres, and the shifting economics of his filmmaking. This book, up to date through Hartley's latest film Ned Rifle (2014), includes new scholarship on the director's early work as well as reflections on his cinema in connection with new theories and approaches to independent filmmaking. Covering the entire trajectory of his career, including both his features and short films, the book also includes new readings of several of Hartley's seminal films, including Amateur (1994), Flirt (1995), and Henry Fool (1997).

Atlas of Emotion Giuliana Bruno, 2018-07-10 An award-winning cultural history of how we experience the world through art, film, and architecture, Atlas of Emotion is a highly original endeavor to map the cultural terrain of spatio-visual arts. In an evocative blend of words and pictures, Giuliana Bruno emphasizes the connections between sight and site, and motion and emotion. In so doing, she touches on the art of Gerhard Richter and Louise Bourgeois, the filmmaking of Peter Greenaway and Michelangelo Antonioni, media archaeology, and the origins of the museum, and her own journeys to her native Naples. Visually luscious and daring in conception, Bruno's book opens new vistas and understandings at every turn.
