Leadership Approaches to Negotiate Challenges in a Changing Education Landscape Leentjie van Jaarsveld, Kobus Mentz, Charl C. Wolhuter, 2020-12-31 The argumentative point of departure of this scholarly book is the common conviction of specialists in the field of education in South Africa that the national education system is not at a satisfactory level in both the academic and the public discourse Such allegations are made and frequently stronger adjectives than non satisfactory are used Results of international test series in which South Africa has participated such as the 2015 TIMSS tests confirm the negative verdicts found in the public and scholarly discourse This book aims to argue that although the lack of performance could be attributed to a multiplicity of factors one factor that can make a difference in the achievement levels obtained by learners in schools is leadership The book demonstrates that a particular problem of both the scholarly and the public discourse on education in South Africa is an overtone of defeatism or resignation blaming all ills in the education system and educational institutions on historical legacies and or contextual factors such as socio economic deprivation in the catchment areas of schools or poor resources and infrastructure This collected work was inspired by a recently published spate of articles on top performing schools including top performing schools in rural communities in which it was demonstrated that good leadership can overcome such contextual and other challenges The book unpacks the issue of leadership in South African schools from a variety of perspectives thus contributing to the development of the scholarly discourse on Educational Leadership in South Africa The target audience of the book is scholars of Educational Leadership The research reported in the chapters draw on a wide range of methodologies including empirical survey research questionnaires and interviews critical literature surveys and the comparative method Mobile Technologies and Handheld Devices for Ubiquitous

Learning: Research and Pedagogy Ng, Wan, 2010-08-31 Mobile Technologies and Handheld Devices for Ubiquitous Learning Research and Pedagogy provides readers with a rich collection of research informed ideas for integrating mobile technologies into learning and teaching Each chapter looks critically at the issues related benefits and limitations of learning ubiquitously within the context of the research reported New and emerging technologies present challenges for education causing educators to have to rethink pedagogy boundaries and curriculum if they continue to embrace mobile technologies in their teaching

Frankie & Stankie Barbara Trapido, 2017-03-21 Dinah and her sister Lisa are growing up in 1950s South Africa where racial laws are tightening They are two little girls from a dissenting liberal family Big sister Lisa is strong and sensible while Dinah is weedy and arty At school the sadistic Mrs Vaughan Jones is providing instruction in mental arithmetic and racial prejudice And then there s the puzzle of lunch break Would you rather have a native girl or a koelie to make your sandwiches a first year classmate asks But Dinah doesn t know the answer because it s her dad who makes her sandwiches As the apparatus of repression rolls on Dinah finds her own way As we follow her journey through childhood and adolescence we enter into one of the darker passages of twentieth century history

Being a Teacher Ken Dovey, 1984

Exploring Mathematics and Science Teachers' Knowledge Hamsa Venkat, Marissa Rollnick, John Loughran, Mike Askew, 2014-05-09 Globally mathematics and science education faces three crucial challenges an increasing need for mathematics and science graduates a declining enrolment of school graduates into university studies in these disciplines and the varying quality of school teaching in these areas Alongside these challenges internationally more and more non specialists are teaching mathematics and science at both primary and secondary levels and research evidence has revealed how gaps and limitations in teachers content understandings can lead to classroom practices that present barriers to students learning This book addresses these issues by investigating how teachers content knowledge interacts with their pedagogies across diverse contexts and perspectives This knowledge practice nexus is examined across mathematics and science teaching traversing schooling phases and countries with an emphasis on contexts of disadvantage These features push the boundaries of research into teachers content knowledge The book s combination of mathematics and science enriches each discipline for the reader and contributes to our understandings of student attainment by examining the nature of specialised content knowledge needed for competent teaching within and across the two domains Exploring Mathematics and Science Teachers Knowledge will be key reading for researchers doctoral students and postgraduates with a focus on Mathematics Science and teacher knowledge research
