Empowering Excellence Jeff Halstead, 2014-07-02 Empowering Excellence inspires a revolution in teaching and assessment practices. These methods of teaching and grading represent a major step ahead in how teachers assess and interact with students. Empowering Excellence presents 12 significant shifts that encourage motivation, build confidence, and measure what students know and are able to do based on the Common Core State Standards or equivalent standards in a highly supportive, student-centered environment. Teachers, administrators, and education professors will find ideas that will transform classrooms into places where students are filled with confidence and empowered to strive for excellence.

Transforming Formative Assessment In Lifelong Learning Ecclestone, Kathryn, 2010-10-01 The idea that formative assessment or assessment for learning can transform teaching and learning has become a mantra and optimism in the 1980s and 1990s that outcome-based and competence-based assessment would widen methods and evidence for showing achievement and motivate learners alienated from traditional approaches. Now embedded in assessment systems, the inspection and professional development that supports them, and in teachers' own espoused theories of learning, teaching, and assessment.

Transforming Assessment Jens Dolin, Robert Evans, 2017-10-14 This book reports the results of a research project that investigated assessment methods aimed at supporting and improving inquiry-based approaches in European science, technology, and mathematics (STM) education. The findings were used to influence policy makers with guidelines for ensuring that assessment enhances learning. The book provides insights about the concept of competence within the STM domains and its relevance for education. The conceptualisation and teaching of four key competences: scientific inquiry, mathematical problem solving, design processes, and innovation. Fundamental aspects of the two main purposes of assessment: formative and summative, the relations between the two purposes and ways of linking them. The main challenges related to the uptake of formative assessment in daily teaching/learning practices in STM and specifically the usability of formative on the fly, dialogue-structured assessment, dialogue, peer assessment, and written teacher feedback. The systemic support measures and tools teachers need in order to integrate formative assessment of student learning into their classroom practices and how it can conflict with summative assessment practices. How research-based strategies for the formative use of assessment can be adapted to various European educational traditions to ensure their effective use and avoid undesirable consequences. How relevant stakeholders can be invited to take co-ownership of research results and how a productive partnership between researchers, policy makers, and teachers can be established. Concrete research vistas that are still needed in international assessment research.

Psychological Assessment in South

Africa Sumaya Laher, Kate Cockcroft, 2013-01-01 This book provides an overview of the research related to psychological assessment across South Africa. The thirty six chapters provide a combination of psychometric theory and practical assessment applications in order to combine the currently disparate research that has been conducted locally in this field. Existing South African texts on psychological assessment are predominantly academic textbooks that explain psychometric theory and provide brief descriptions of a few testing instruments. Psychological Assessment in South Africa provides in depth coverage of a range of areas within the broad field of psychological assessment including research conducted with various psychological instruments. The chapters critically interrogate the current Eurocentric and Western cultural hegemonic practices that dominate the field of psychological assessment. The book therefore has the potential to function both as an academic text for graduate students as well as a specialist resource for professionals including psychologists, psychometrists, remedial teachers and human resource practitioners. Topics discussed include problems with traditional assessment methods, rationales behind different kinds of innovation in assessment, complex assessment contexts in which teachers attempt to innovate, innovation in assessment within a range of academic settings, theoretical and empirical support for innovations within higher education. More than a how to do it manual, this book offers a unique mix of useful pragmatism and scholarship. A vital resource for higher education teachers and their educational advisors, it provides a
