Abstract

The second component of our cost control tool is a proven business plan writing tool that generates the pricing, Profit Plan, Cash Flow & cost management tables, estimates operating performance and identifies strengths/weaknesses of plans and your business. This tool can generate reports in 10 minutes for your business. Another component is an online system which updates the tables. This is useful and saves time as a follow feature in the business. It is especially important to our business as technology is becoming a key part of our business and our software has been developed to be able to handle this. This content is designed to assist you in meeting CCO-2000-04 Learning Goal. It is not intended to replace the study of any other course content. You should consult Managing the Sales Process for more information on sales operations. The sales channel to concentrate on for CCO-2000-04 is defined as: "The first channel is to sell each unit that is manufactured by a sales agent. Within the context of the sales in this chapter, the sales is without delivery agents, such as franchise (see later assignment questions). To maximize the role of this manufacturing using the sales channel is to (1) sell each unit directly to the customer."
