10. Base your answer to the following question on the passage below and on your knowledge of social studies.

...The factory owners did not have the power to compel anybody to take a factory job. They could only hire people who were ready to work for the wages offered to them. Low as these wage rates were, they were nonetheless much more than these paupers could earn in any other field open to them. It is a distortion of facts to say that the factories carried off the housewives from the nurseries and the kitchens and the children from their play. These women had nothing to cook with and [nothing] to feed their children. These children were destitute [poor] and starving. Their only refuge was the factory. It saved them, in the strict sense of the term, from death by starvation.

— Ludwig von Mises, Human Action, A Treatise on Economics, Yale University Press

Which statement summarizes the theme of this passage?

- A) Factory owners created increased hardships.
- B) Factory owners preferred to use child laborers.

- A) introduction of the factory system
 - B) increased urbanization
 - C) increased productivity of industrial workers
 - D) unsafe working conditions
12. In England, which circumstance was a result of the other three?
- A) availability of labor
 - B) abundance of coal and iron
 - C) waterpower from many rivers
 - D) start of the Industrial Revolution
13. Which course of action does the theory of laissez-faire suggest a government should follow?
- A) providing help for people in need
 - B) establishing businesses to create jobs
 - C) allowing the economy to naturally regulate itself
 - D) controlling the mineral resources of a country
14. Adam Smith's laissez-faire theories are most closely associated with
- A) the separation of church and state
 - B) minimal government regulation of the economy
 - C) a command economy
 - D) high tariffs to protect domestic businesses
