Müller,2012-10-01T00:00:00-04:00 The creation of the Nunavik is a major step forward both for the Province of Quebec and its Inuit population Not only does it underline the recognition of the Inuit people and their identity but it also stresses the importance of discussing some fundamental issues regarding the emancipation of the Inuit their empowerment the development and management of the northern resources of Quebec and the protection and conservation of the fragile Nordic ecosystems Rich in culture and scenery Nunavik has identified tourism as one of the main and best suited avenue for economic development But before Nunavik can truly enjoy the benefits of a well established tourism industry many challenges need to be met The development of tourism in a new destination is not only challenging but it requires human efforts political and economic will over a large amount of time without much guaranties as to what will work or not It is in this context that in August 2008 the members of the newly created International Polar Tourism Research Network IPTRN came to Kangiqsujjuak Nunavik to discuss how tourism can play a role in regional development The collection of articles presented here is the result of the coming together of a group of polar tourism researchers from around the world who met in Nunavik the northernmost part of Quebec to discuss polar tourism as a tool for regional development Such a book does not claim to address all issues facing the polar destinations It is nevertheless a base for reflection Many of the new emerging regions of the circumpolar world like the Nunavik are experimenting with new powers and responsibilities For scientists this is an excellent time to assist with the experiences that have been well documented from other Northern Arctic and polar regions For tourism this book is meant to offer a range of perspectives on how challenges can be met and how solutions can be implemented for the benefit of all local interests The Routledge Handbook of Tourism and Sustainability C.

Negotiating Hospitality Emily Höckert, 2018-05-11. How do hosts and guests welcome each other in responsible encounters? This book addresses the question in a longitudinal ethnographic study on tourism development in the coffee cultivating communities in Nicaragua. The research follows the trail of development practitioners and researchers who travel with a desire to help teach and study the local hosts. On a broader level, it is a journey exploring how the conditions of hospitality become negotiated between these actors. The theoretical approach bases itself on the ethical subjectivity as responsibility and receptivity towards the other. The ideas put forward in the book suggest that hospitality, responsibility and participation all require a readiness to interrupt one's own ways of doing, knowing and being. This book provides a conceptual tool to facilitate reflection on alternative ways of doing, togetherness and will be of interest to students and researchers of hospitality, tourism development studies, cultural studies and anthropology.
