Multnomah County Voter Guide 2008:

Financing the 2016 Election David B. Magleby, 2019-04-30 Money and politics in an election that broke the mold Beginning with the 1960 election readers could turn to one book for an authoritative and comprehensive examination of campaign finance at the federal level Now the latest in this respected series Financing the 2016 Election explores the role of money in one of the most unconventional elections in modern American history A team of leading scholars has dug into the roles played by political parties and special interest groups including their Super PACS in the presidential and congressional elections of 2016 David Magleby and his team of experts examined Federal Elections Commission reports and interviewed dozens of key participants including representatives of virtually all the major interest groups active in the 2016 election cycle They place that election in the context of how U S elections have been financed during recent decades a context that illustrates how dramatically different campaign finance is today from the past Among the most important changes has been the growth of so called Super PACS which have become increasingly important both in the financing they provide candidates and in their ability to act independently both for and against candidates Overall Super PACS doubled their spending in 2016 from four years earlier Taking a comprehensive approach this book helps readers understand how the financing of elections including the increasing reliance by candidates on outside special interest groups ultimately affects politics and public policy

Elderly Voters Barbara D. Bovbjerg, 2010-06 Voting is fundamental to the U S democratic system and federal law provides broad protections for people with disabilities including older voters Many long term care facility residents who often have physical or cognitive impairments vote by absentee or early ballot Concerns have been raised about the extent to which states and localities are helping the increasing number of facility residents exercise their right to vote especially those requiring voting assistance who may be subject to undue influence or unauthorized completion of their ballot by facility staff or relatives Given these concerns this report identified the actions taken to facilitate and protect voting for long term care facility residents at 1 the state level and 2 the local level Charts and tables

Atlas of the 2008 Elections Stanley D. Brunn, Gerald R. Webster, Richard L. Morrill, Fred M. Shelley, Stephen J. Lavin, J. Clark Archer, 2011-08-16 The U S presidential election of 2008 was one of the most significant elections in recent American history Bringing together leading geographers and political scientists this authoritative atlas analyzes and maps the campaigns primaries general election and key state referenda to provide a rich picture of this watershed event The contributors offer a comprehensive and detailed assessment of all aspects of the election providing presidential results at the national level in major regions and in swing states Drilling down to county level they trace voting patterns for key racial ethnic religious and occupational groups They also illustrate the campaign strategies of Democratic and Republican party leaders Moving beyond the national race the atlas compares important senatorial and gubernatorial races to presidential votes and considers selected state referenda such as marriage amendments farm animal cruelty stem cell research and physician assisted suicide For added context and depth the 2008 election results are compared with previous national elections Illustrated with more than 200 meticulously drawn full color maps the atlas will be an essential reference and a fascinating resource for pundits voters campaign staffs and political junkies alike Contributions by John Agnew J Clark Archer William Berentsen Stanley D Brunn Thomas E Chapman Jeffrey R Crump Carl T Dahlman David Darmofal Lisa M DeChano Cook Mark Drayse Joshua J Dyck Ryan D Enos Daniel Ervin John W Frazier Megan A Gall Andrew Gelman James G Gimpel Alex Ginsburg Sean P Gorman Mark Graham Nathaniel HadleyDike John Heppen Heather Hollen Taylor Johnson Kimberly Karnes Larry Knopp Matt Landers Stephen J Lavin Jonathan I Leib Kenneth C Martis John McNulty Joshua R Meddaugh Melissa R Michelson Mark A Moody Toby Moore Richard L Morrill J Eric Oliver Kathleen O Reilly Nick Quinton Mark E Reisinger Wesley J Reisser Tony Robinson Fred M Shelley Taylor Shelton Jonathan Taylor Andrew J Turner Tom Vanderhorst Barney Warf Robert Watrel Gerald R Webster and Matthew Zook The Politics of Disenfranchisement Richard K. Scher,2015-03-04 We think of our American democracy as being a model for the world and it has been But today it compares unfavorably in some respects especially when it comes to the universal franchise The right to vote is more conditional and less exercised in the United States than in many other mature democracies As became clear to all in the presidential election of 2000 when the stakes are high efforts to define voter eligibility and manage the voting and vote counting process to the advantage of one s own side are part of hard ball politics It is that experience that gave rise to this book Written by an author with wide expertise on Southern and Florida politics and districting the book begins with a deceptively simple question why is it so hard to vote in America It proceeds in seven chapters to examine the ways that some people are formally or effectively disenfranchised and to review how control of the ballot and the voting process is constrained manipulated and contested Presidential Elections, 1789-2008 Donald Richard Deskins,Hanes Walton,Sherman C. Striving Together Jeff Edmondson, Nancy L. Zimpher, 2014-10-30 Chronicles the development of a framework for collective impact in education through the perspectives of its founders and lessons learned from pioneering sites In 2006 Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky had been suffering from many of the same challenges facing metro regions across the country Despite significant investments in education from the public and private sectors outcomes were alarming Kindergarten readiness was below fifty percent and nearly half of the students in the Cincinnati Public Schools were dropping out before high school graduation Fortunately a diverse group of community leaders across sectors was exploring a transformative approach to improving education as a system This gathering of leaders was the genesis of the StrivePartnership which served as the inspiration for the theory of collective impact Together these partners are building a cradle to career civic infrastructure based on the idea that everyone in a community has a stake in the success of every child. This book chronicles the early stages of this ongoing journey from the perspective of the founding chair and director of this work drawing upon lessons from Cincinnati Northern Kentucky and four other pioneering local partnerships. The experiences captured in these five regions helped lay the foundation for the StriveTogether Cradle to Career Network, a national community of practice on the cutting edge of social change. I have always held that education is the responsibility of the entire community, not just the schools. StriveTogether's experience shows that it is possible to drive the systemic change we need. I recommend this book to all who are looking for a community-wide roadmap to a better future for our children.

Richard W. Riley, former US Secretary of Education: No one sector can tackle society's challenges alone. Striving Together's practical guide offers excellent tools for leaders in all sectors to use in creating collaborative solutions to improve education and outcomes for children. It's inspiring to see communities coming together to create opportunities for all children with a cradle to career approach.

Stacey D. Stewart, US President, United Way Worldwide: History provides many examples of efforts to help whole communities to thrive. Collective impact is the latest and most promising idea for how to get it done, and StriveTogether is the leading example on the ground. This book is a welcome contribution representing the state of the art.

Kimberly Jensen, 2012-12-01: Esther Clayton Pohl Lovejoy, whose long life stretched from 1869 to 1967, challenged convention from the time she was a young girl. Her professional life began as one of Oregon's earliest women physicians, and her commitment to public health and medical relief took her into the international arena where she was chair of the American Women's Hospitals after World War I and the first president of the Medical Women's International Association. Most disease, suffering, and death, she believed, were the result of wars and social and economic inequities, and she was determined to combat those conditions through organized action. Lovejoy's early life and career in the Pacific Northwest gave her key experiences and strategies to use for what she termed constructive resistance: the ability to take effective action against unjust power. She took a political and pragmatic approach to what she called woman's big job: achieving a full female citizenship and emphasizing the importance of votes for women. In this engaging biography, Kimberly Jensen tells the story of this important western woman, exploring her approach to politics, health, and society, and her civic, economic, and medical activism.
