- 4) Social diffusion involves a person or group of people acting as a source or agent of the diffusion. It is the most common type of diffusion for the spread of culture (e.g., the fashion).

This system is designed to capture the essential (200–2000 Hz) lower range of the voice spectrum, to represent the early part of any other speech spectrum. This modification distinguishes the male from the female voice quality. The early speech formants are not captured by the system, but the system is designed to capture the early speech formants by a short burst of speech before the onset of the vowel in the speech. Abstract: The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week, low-intensity, low-impact, and low-volume exercise program on the physical fitness of sedentary, middle-aged women. The study was a randomized, controlled trial. The subjects were 30 sedentary, middle-aged women who were randomly assigned to either an exercise group or a control group. The exercise group performed a 12-week, low-intensity, low-impact, and low-volume exercise program. The control group did not exercise. The physical fitness of the subjects was measured at baseline and at the end of the 12-week period. The results of the study showed that the exercise group had significantly higher levels of physical fitness than the control group at the end of the 12-week period. The exercise program was effective in improving the physical fitness of sedentary, middle-aged women.
