Condition Red; Destroyer Action In The South Pacific [Illustrated Edition] Commander F. J. Bell, 2015-11-06 Includes the

Second World War In The Pacific Illustration Pack 152 maps plans and photos Commander Frederick Bell recounts his wartime experiences on the USS G Grayson during the Pacific War

CONDITION RED was an expression that we used to indicate the imminence of any type of engagement Aboard the G it was a colloquialism that served to express the conviction that the next few hours or days or weeks were going to be packed with action We first heard it soon after we arrived in the Solomons where the term was used on Guadalcanal and Tulagi to indicate the approach of the enemy and when our voice radio blared out the words we went to General Quarters and prepared to greet the Tokyo Express or the Zeros and Mitsubishi's when they came within view Little has been written of the part that our destroyers are playing in the Pacific War where they are called upon to fulfil such a variety of missions that they have become multipurpose ships engaging in any form of combat Because we lacked suitable escort ships we used destroyers to protect convoys as well as to guard our combatant Task Forces We used them to bombard enemy shore positions and to carry bombs and aviation gasoline and stores to Guadalcanal during the lean weeks early in our campaign in those far distant seas By nature as well as by name the purpose of the destroyer is wholly offensive Bantamweights in comparison with the great battlewagons they pack a punch out of all proportion to their size They are triple threat weapons built to strike at any enemy on or over or under the sea In the words of Rear Admiral Tisdale They are the fightingest thing afloat Poole's Index to Periodical Literature ,1903
