Institutional Translation for International Governance Fernando Prieto Ramos,2018-02-08 This volume provides a state of the art overview of institutional translation issues related to the development of international law and policies for supranational integration and governance These issues are explored from various angles in selected papers by guest specialists and findings of a large scale research project led by the editor Focus is placed on key methodological and policy aspects of legal communication and translation quality in a variety of institutional settings including several comparative studies of the United Nations and European Union institutions The first book of its kind on institutional translation with a focus on quality of legal communication this work offers a unique combination of perspectives drawn together through a multilayered examination of methods e g corpus analysis comparative law for translation and terminological analysis skills and working procedures The chapters are organized into three sections 1 contemporary issues and methods 2 translation quality in law and policy making and implementation and 3 translation and multilingual case law Bulletin of the Information and Documentation Section International Institute of Intellectual Co-operation. Information and Reference Section,1928 The French of Medieval England Thelma S. Fenster,Carolyn P. Collette,2017 Recent research has emphasised the importance of insular French in medieval English culture alongside English and Latin for a period of some four hundred years French variously labelled the French of England Anglo Norman Anglo French and Insular French rivalled these two languages The essays here focus on linguistic adaptation and translation in this new multilingual England where John Gower wrote in Latin while his contemporary Chaucer could break new ground in English Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson,L.W. Conolly,2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France,2000 Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more In the English speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett the Bible to Freud Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English Written by eminent scholars from many countries the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature It highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the issues raised making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean from Swahili to Russian For some works e g Virgil s Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available The Guide is divided into two parts Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text e g poetry oral literature The second much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin some are devoted to individual texts e g the Thousand and One Nights or writers e g Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators
