The "performance average" below all the ratings by advisors in a given category averages those together. You can check to see if a company is above or below the average.

The "importance average" below all the importance ratings by advisors in a given category averages those together. It is intended to measure how important advisors think a Report Card category is to their business. It is separate from the performance ratings.

The "IF rating" is an average of all of a company's category ratings by advisors, excluding Net Promoter Score. It measures how advisors feel about their own firm overall and isn't used as a ranking tool.

The Net Promoter Score ranges from -100 to 100. A score of zero or more is considered good, of 50 or more is considered excellent and of 70 or more is considered exceptional. N/A denotes a category does not apply to a company. N/C means the category is not calculable as not enough advisors rated it to be a reasonable sample.

1. The adviser pay and product categories do not focus on adviser earnings, growth or sales activity, or on firms' revenues. For pay, the focus is on compensation (salary, for products, the focus is on quality and variety of the shelf.

2. New category or category has changed materially year over year.

Notes that make category names have been added for clarity, while other categories have been removed compared with past years based on industry change and/or their relevance.

The Report Card scores can't be used to compare or contrast, and it isn't a ranking exercise. Historical data ratings are not based on sales activity, revenue or profits.
