Museum Experience Elee Kirk,Will Buckingham,2018-06-20 Children are one of the major audiences for museums but their visits are often seen solely from the point of view of museum learning In Snapshots of Museum Experience Will Buckingham draws upon Elee Kirk s research amongst child visitors to the Oxford University Museum of Natural History to take a different approach Using a method of photo elicitation with four and five year old child visitors to the museum the book investigates children s experience of the museum and in the process undermines many of our assumptions about the interests needs and demands of child museum visitors Drawing together the fields of museum studies and childhood studies the book considers children as active creators of the museum visit It investigates the way that children navigate and take control of the physical and social spaces of the museum finding their own idiosyncratic pathways through these spaces It also explores how elements of the museum light up becoming salient to the child visitor Finally it investigates how children make sense through intellectually and imaginatively engaging with these elements of the museum visit Snapshots of Museum Experience gives a unique insight into the sheer diversity of children s museum experiences and discusses how museums might cater more successfully to the needs of their child visitors As such it should be of great interest to academics researchers and students in the fields of museum studies visitor studies and childhood studies It should also be essential reading for museum educators and exhibition designers

Special Kids for Special Treatment? Helen Phtiaka, 2018-09-03 First published in 1997 This book compares and contrasts the experiences of deviant pupils in a mainstream school with that of those in a special unit for pupils with behavioural problems The author's aims are to i evaluate the differences between the behaviour of deviant boys and girls within the mainstream education system with those without and ii justify the criteria for transferring deviant pupils to special units Her research shows that there is no uniformity in the deviant behaviour of pupils in either situation In fact there are more similarities in the behaviour of pupils across the dividing line than pupils in the same institution Such findings raise questions about the apparent arbitrary nature of some transferral decisions and in the longer term the whole logic of separate schooling for pupils who are considered by some to be a problem At a time when market forces and competition have distracted the schools attention away from the needs of the individual pupil this book stresses the need for changes at all levels which will make school relevant to the lives of all pupils
