

to create, need resources provided. This means there is a degree of 'control' over a particular sector involving and allocating the scarce resources. The other two characteristics that distinguish the public sector from private systems (education, health, justice, defence)

Private Sector (Market) (Education, Health, Justice, Defence, Transport, Welfare state)

Education differs the rest from the other two (education, health, justice, defence, welfare state)

Education differs the rest from the other two (education, health, justice, defence, welfare state)

Understanding the two different sectors (the public and private sector)

	Education	Health	Justice	Defence
Public Sector	The government or public (the private the public)	The government or public (the private the public)	The government or public (the private the public)	The government or public (the private the public)
Private Sector	Private individuals (the public the private the public)	Private individuals (the public the private the public)	Private individuals (the public the private the public)	Private individuals (the public the private the public)

The different sectors of the economy

	Education	Health
Primary Sector	The sector of the economy responsible for extracting resources from the natural world around	Extracting, mining, farming
Secondary Sector	The sector of the economy that is responsible for manufacturing and construction for using the primary resources to build goods and services	Manufacturing, construction, etc.
Tertiary Sector	The sector of the economy responsible for providing services to consumers and the public (education, health, justice, defence, welfare state)	Education, health, justice, defence, welfare state

The primary sector is very large for many countries (farming, mining, etc.) but it is very small for many countries (education, health, justice, defence, welfare state). The secondary sector is very large for many countries (manufacturing, construction, etc.) but it is very small for many countries (education, health, justice, defence, welfare state).
