Failure Up Close Jay P. Greene, Michael Q. McShane, 2018-01-17 For many reasons failure in education reform is rarely admitted Even though it is incredibly hard work to try and improve the enormous and diverse American education system because there are political consequences of admitting that a particular effort did not live up to its promises and pressure from philanthropic funders to show success unsuccessful efforts are often swept under the rug or papered over with public relations efforts that avoid wrestling with the tough realities of educational improvement This doesn't help anyone As any educator will tell you failure is an essential part of learning Insofar as education reform needs to be a learning movement itself it has to be able to admit where it has failed and learn from it Failure Up Close engages a select group of scholars from across the ideological spectrum to examine particular education reform efforts of recent years that have not succeeded and offer lessons for school and system improvement that can be learned from them Rather than view failure as negative this volume looks at failure as an opportunity to learn and grow In fact the editors endeavored to find authors that would analyze reforms for which they had some fundamental sympathy The goal is not to bash particular efforts or castigate their supporters but rather to help those supporters understand how to do what they do better and ultimately do better for children

America's Textile Reporter ,1902 2012 GCSE English results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee,2013-06-11 The 2012 GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007 09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do
