Using these two measures, the 100 companies that are ranked highest in the composite are grouped into the "A" group, the next 20 companies into the "B" group, and the remaining 70 companies into the "C" group. A company is then given an overall score, the sum of the number of "A" ratings plus 2 times the number of "B" ratings, plus the number of "C" ratings. The company with the highest overall score is ranked first, the company with the second highest score is ranked second, and so on. The company with the lowest score is ranked 100th.
