The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2018 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-09-14 New evidence this year corroborates the rise in world hunger observed in this report last year sending a warning that more action is needed if we aspire to end world hunger and malnutrition in all its forms by 2030 Updated estimates show the number of people who suffer from hunger has been growing over the past three years returning to prevailing levels from almost a decade ago Although progress continues to be made in reducing child stunting over 22 percent of children under five years of age are still affected Other forms of malnutrition are also growing adult obesity continues to increase in countries irrespective of their income levels and many countries are coping with multiple forms of malnutrition at the same time overweight and obesity as well as anaemia in women and child stunting and wasting Food data collection in Household Consumption and Expenditure Surveys. Guidelines for low and middle income countries Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, The World Bank, 2018-10-30 The measurement of food consumption and expenditure is a fundamental component of any analysis of poverty and food security and hence the importance and timeliness of devoting attention to the topic cannot be overemphasized as the international development community confronts the challenges of monitoring progress in implementing the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development In 2014 the International Household Survey Network published a desk review of the reliability and relevance of survey questions as included in 100 household surveys from low and middle income countries The report was presented in March 2014 at the forty fifth session of the United Nations Statistical Commission UNSC in a seminar organized by the Inter Agency and Expert Group on Food Security Agricultural and Rural Statistics IAEG AG The assessment painted a bleak picture in terms of heterogeneity in survey design and overall relevance and reliability of the data being collected On the positive side it pointed to many areas in which even marginal changes to survey and questionnaire design could lead to a significant increase in reliability and consequently great improvements in measurement accuracy The report which sparked a lot of interest from development partners and UNSC member countries prompted IAEG AG to pursue this area of work with the ultimate objective of developing validating and promoting scalable standards for the measurement of food consumption in household surveys The work started with an expert workshop that took place in Rome in November 2014 Successive versions of the guidelines were drafted and discussed at various IAEG AG meetings and in another expert workshop organized in November 2016 in Rome The guidelines were put together by a joint FAO World Bank team with inputs and comments received from representatives of national statistical offices international organizations survey practitioners academics and experts in different disciplines statistics economics nutrition food security and analysis A list of the main contributors is included in the acknowledgment section In December 2017 a draft of the guidelines was circulated to 148 National Statistical Offices from low to high income countries for comments The document was revised following that consultation and submitted to UNSC which endorsed it at its forty ninth session in March 2018 under item 3 j of the agenda agricultural and rural statistics The version presented here reflects what was endorsed by the Commission edited for language The process received support from the Global Strategy for Agricultural and Rural Statistics The document is intended to be a reference document for National Statistical Offices survey practitioners and national and international agencies designing household surveys that involve the collection of food consumption and expenditure data

Health Financing and Spending in Low- and Middle-Income Countries Mihajlo (Michael) Jakovljevic, Zafer Çaliskan, Paula Odete Fernandes, Sulaiman Mouselli, Michael Ekubu Otim, 2022-02-09 School Farms Alshimaa Aboelmakarem Farag, Samaa Badawi, Gurbinder Lalli, Maya Kamareddine, 2021-11-28 This book highlights the potential of school farms to fight hunger and malnutrition by providing access to locally produced fresh and healthy food as well as providing young students with educational opportunities to learn interact with nature and develop their skills Hunger is one of the most pressing concerns we face today and there is a clear need to provide alternative sources of food to feed a fast growing population School farms offer a sustainable opportunity to produce food locally in order to feed underprivileged students who rely on school meals as an integral part of their daily diet Approaching the concept of school farms through four themes Problem People Process and Place the book shows how they can play an essential role in providing sustainable and healthy food for students the critical role educational institutions can play in promoting this process and the positive impact hands on farming can have on students mental and physical wellbeing Utilizing the authors personal hands on experiences and drawing on global case studies the book provides a theoretical framework and practical guidance to help with the establishment of school farms and community based gardening projects and an education system which promotes a sustainable and healthy approach to food agriculture and the environment This book will be essential reading for students and scholars of food security agriculture healthy and sustainable diets education for sustainable development and urban studies It will also be of great interest to practitioners and policymakers involved in food policy developing school and community projects global health and international development as well as education professionals

Practical Applications of Medical Geology Malcolm Siegel, Olle Selinus, Robert Finkelman, 2021-08-01 This edited volume provides a framework for integrating methods and information drawn from geological and medical sciences and provides case studies in medical geology to illustrate the usefulness of this framework for crafting environmental and public health policies related to natural materials The relevance of medical geology research to policy decisions is a topic rarely discussed and this volume attempts to be a unique source for researchers and policy makers in the field of medical geology in addressing this gap in practical medical geology applications The book s four sections establish this framework in detail using risk assessment case studies data analyses and specific medical geology techniques Following an introduction to medical geology in the context of risk assessment and risk management the second section discusses specific methods used in medical geology in the categories of geoscience biomedicine and data sources The third section discusses the medical geology of natural materials energy use and environmental and workplace impacts This section includes specific case studies in medical geology and describes how the methods and data from the previous section are used in a medical geology analysis The fourth section includes a guide to the medical geology literature and provides some examples of medical geology programs in Asia and Africa

The African Food Environments Amos Laar,Kaleab Baye,Anna Lartey,Francis Zotor,Gershim Asiki,2023-09-05 In many respects the continent of Africa is in transition Prominent among them currently is the nutrition transition One consequence of the nutrition transition is the increase in prevalence of nutrition related non communicable diseases NCDs such as obesity type 2 diabetes cardiovascular diseases and certain cancers Although NCDs are a global public health problem the rate of increase in NCDs morbidity and mortality in some African countries is staggering This surge has been linked to modifiable environmental factors factors that facilitate the consumption of obesogenic energy dense nutrient poor foods rather than unrefined cereals fruits and vegetables It has long been recognized that the physical and social environments in which people live work and eat are critical determinants of their health More recently there has been a greater focus on the food environment as a key determinant of health Available evidence shows that unhealthy food environments drive unhealthy diets and unhealthy diet is one of four main risk factors for NCDs

Education for people and the planet: Creating sustainable futures for all UNESCO,2016-09-12 This edition of the Global Education Monitoring Report GEM Report is the first in a series that will assess the progress of education under the new Sustainable Development Goals SDGs

Food Loss and Food Waste Michael Blakeney, Global food insecurity is a growing issue At a time when the world s population is increasing and agricultural production is challenged by climate change it is estimated that around a third of the food produced globally is lost or wasted This book examines the problem of food loss and waste FLW and the policies that could be enacted to remedy this fundamental global concern Global report on the state of dietary data Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,Intake - Center for dietary assessment,2022-03-09 Diet and nutrition are critical to health well being and longevity The economic and health burdens associated with poor quality diets are a worldwide concern but for low and middle income countries LMICs the long term impact of these burdens has the potential to be especially devastating Many of these LMICs are currently grappling with the deepening multiple burdens of malnutrition with undernutrition nutrient inadequacies and overweight and obesity often presenting simultaneously in communities households and even in single individuals Time relevant data is a necessary and critical component of any process or initiative that aims to ensure healthy diets Robust data on what people eat in a country enables an understanding of current food consumption practices and provides an evidence based foundation for the design and implementation of targeted and well informed actions policies and messaging to address the key issues related to healthy eating The purpose of this report is to take stock and celebrate the collection and use of dietary data in LMICs and generate further momentum for investment in government led dietary surveys in LMICs Section 1 provides a global overview of dietary surveys carried out in LMICs from 1980 through 2019 analysing key characteristics and trends over time Section 2 celebrates the increased investment in dietary surveys in LMICs by highlighting country stories related to dietary survey initiation implementation and data use Section 3 is aimed at generating further momentum for investment in government led dietary surveys in LMICs by illustrating through data visualizations the type of information dietary data can provide for policy makers
