La Lune Domah:

From Surrealism to Less-exquisite Cadavers Michelle Emanuel, 2006 Les nouveaux mystères de Paris 1954-1959 Leo Malet's fifteen novel detective series inspired by Eugène Sue's nineteenth century feuilleton almost achieved the goal of setting a mystery in each of the twenty Parisian arrondissements with Nestor Burma at the center of the action. In Burma the detective de choc first introduced in 1943 at 120 rue de la gare Malet considered the father of the French roman noir creates a cultural hybrid bringing literary references and surrealist techniques to a criminal milieu. Michelle Emanuel's groundbreaking study is particularly insightful in its treatment of Malet as a pioneer within the literary genre of the French roman noir while making sure to also focus on his surrealist roots. Against the archetypes of Simenon's Maigret and Christie's Poirot Burma is brash and streetwise peppering his speech with colorful and evocative slang. As the reader's tour guide Burma highlights Paris's forgotten past while providing insight to the Paris of his present referencing both popular culture and contemporary issues. Malet's innovation of setting a noir narrative in France serves as a catalyst for further change in the policier genre in France including his contemporary Jean Amila the neo polar of Jean Patrick Manchette and the historical roman noir of Didier Daeninckx.

The Pleasures of Crime David Platten, 2011-12 For 150 years the French public and literati have enjoyed a love affair with crime fiction. This book investigates the nature of this relationship and how through periods of dramatic social and political change in France it has flourished. It challenges the conventional view of a popular genre feeding a niche market depicting crime fiction instead as a field of creative endeavour which has gradually matured into one of considerable literary fertility. By inviting us to share secrets and crack codes creating suspense and at times not shirking from presenting horrific events in graphic language the crime story brings into play the intellect and emotions of its readership. This book explores both this intrinsic literary value of the crime novel and its extrinsic witness to historical events and cultural trends arguing that these apparently distinct aspects are in fact dynamic interrelated parts of the same whole. This blend of cultural history with literary analysis allows for the discussion of themes such as politics memory the urban environment and youth cultures mixed with case studies of major French crime writers including Gaston Leroux Georges Simenon Jean Patrick Manchette Daniel Pennac and Fred Vargas.

Violent Histories David Gascoigne, 2007 This series aims to publish new research monographs and essays into relationships and interactions between culture and identity. The notions of both culture and identity are broadly conceived interdisciplinary and theoretically diverse approaches are encouraged in a series designed to promote a better understanding of the processes of identity formation both individual and collective.

French Crime Fiction, 1945-2005 Margaret-Anne Hutton, 2016-04-22 In the first major study of representations of World War II in French crime fiction Margaret Anne Hutton draws on a corpus of over a hundred and fifty texts spanning more than sixty years. Included are well known writers male and female such as Aubert Simenon Boileau Narcejak Vargas Daeninckx and Jonquet as well as a broad range of lesser known authors. Hutton's introduction situates her study within the larger framework of literary representations of World War II setting the stage for her discussions of genre the problem of defining crimes and criminals in the context of the war the epistemological issues that arise in the relationship between World War II historiography and the crime novel and the temporal textures linking past crimes to the present Filling a gap in the fields of crime fiction and fictional representations of the War Hutton s book calls into question the way both crime fiction and the French theatre of World War II have been conceptualized and codified

The Roman Noir in Post-war French Culture

Claire Gorrara,2003 The Roman Noir in Post War French Culture offers a lively introduction to the post war French roman noir from a cultural studies perspective A populist and widely disseminated genre the French roman noir has suffered from a reputation as a minor genre with its roots in American popular culture In this study Claire Gorrara challenges such preconceptions and examines how selected writers have appropriated the roman noir as a critical response to formative concerns and debates in post war French society Starting with the first truly French roman noir L o Malet s 120 rue de la gare 1943 and concluding with Maud Tabachnik s feminist thriller Un t pourri 1994 Gorrara analyses both texts and film in relation to their specific historical and cultural context From the heritage of the Second World War and France s wars of decolonisation to the rise of consumer culture and questions of gender and sexual equality the roman noir operates in dialogue with its times mediating social change and transformation with stories of crime transgression and marginality All the novelists studied were published initially in popular collections such as the S rie noire but they have been chosen for the innovation of their work and the exciting ways in which they resist tired conventions and offer new ways of representing social reality One of the first English language studies of this popular genre The Roman Noir in Post War French Culture offers much more than close readings of these fascinating texts it demonstrates the important contribution of the roman noir to the cultural histories of post war France

Faites du D barquement de Normandie Patrick Amand propose de commémorer cet événement traversant 14 nouvelles se déroulant entre 1944 et 2014. Tirées d'anecdotes faites par eux ou tout simplement fruit de son imagination ces nouvelles noires décrivent avec réalisme cruauté et humour de petites histoires dans la grande Histoire. Le livre est préfacé par Jean Quellien professeur à l'université de Caen grand spécialiste de la Seconde guerre mondiale. Des nouvelles noires inspirées du réel pour revivre la Histoire. EXTRAIT C'est une de mes sensations préférées lorsque nous avions fait l'amour à Mary m'embrassait dans le cou tout en laissant sa langue effleurer la racine de mes cheveux. Cela me procurait un sentiment inouï une chaleur indescriptible qui me faisait frissonner durant de longues secondes. Mais la sensation de chaleur ce n'était pas Mary mais Slim Jim O'Gara avait réussi le tour de force de vacuer la réalité du moment pour se plonger dans des souvenirs tellement merveilleux. Il était 6 h 30 dans le LCVP PA 2628 qui amenait le 16th Infantry Regiment de la 1st Infantry Division sur la plage de Colleville-sur-Mer secteur Fox Green le 6 juin 1944.

CE QU'EN PENSE LA CRITIQUE Un recueil de nouvelles noires. Avec pour toile de fond le D barquement. Quarante histoires tirées de la grande Histoire. Du noir et de la rigueur. La Nouvelle République. Les intrigues se déroulent de 1944 nos jours. Plus ou moins longues, ces nouvelles ont des chutes cruelles tragiques pour la plupart d'entre elles mais lorsqu'elles se déroulent notre poétique. Etonnamment la fin peut être aussi humoristique. Parfaitement bien documenté et passionnant par le sujet qu'il traite. Patrick Amand nous fait revivre intensément le D barquement du 6 juin 1944. Malgré le thème commun, ce recueil chaque nouvelle amène une histoire un point de vue différents. Une plongée tonnante et de qualité dans un événement marquant de la Seconde Guerre mondiale. Histoire d'en Lire A PROPOS DE L'AUTEUR N Poitiers en 1970. Patrick Amand est aujourd'hui responsable administratif de la médiathèque François Mitterrand dans sa ville natale. Passionné par la Seconde guerre mondiale et auteur de polars, il aime allier la critique et l'histoire. Omaha blues est son premier recueil de nouvelles après les deux polars "L'affaire du noyade de Poitiers" dont l'intrigue se déroule dans la Normandie et Gurs 1039.
