McAreavey,2019-06-01 Women s Life Writing and Early Modern Ireland provides an original perspective on both new and familiar texts in this first critical collection to focus on seventeenth century women s life writing in a specifically Irish context By shifting the focus away from England even though many of these writers would have identified themselves as English and making Ireland and Irishness the focus of their essays the contributors resituate women s narratives in a powerful and revealing landscape This volume addresses a range of genres from letters to book marginalia and a number of different women from now canonical life writers such as Mary Rich and Ann Fanshawe to far less familiar figures such as Eliza Blennerhassett and the correspondents and supplicants of William King archbishop of Dublin The writings of the Boyle sisters and the Duchess of Ormonde women from the two most important families in seventeenth century Ireland also receive a thorough analysis These innovative and nuanced scholarly considerations of the powerful influence of Ireland on these writers construction of self provide fresh illuminating insights into both their writing and their broader cultural context

Towards Creative Imagination in Victorian Literature Aleksandra Piasecka,2014-06-19 This book explores the concept of the creative imagination in Mid and Late Victorian England In these times of transition as the age of the Industrial Revolution was regarded aesthetic considerations became involved in the broader debate on the shape of the modern world Thus the approach to the artistic imagination was closely connected with the shifting beliefs concerning the essence of beauty and the role of religion not to mention attitudes towards nature and society These aspects defined the aims furthered by painters and poets alike and set the direction for their artistic endeavours Five people have been chosen as representatives of their time in the discussion about artistic imagination John Ruskin William Morris Dante Gabriel Rossetti Walter Pater and Arthur Symons Accordingly the material analysed to recreate the Victorian understanding of the artistic faculties is of different kinds and embraces not only critical essays Ruskin Pater Symons but also belles lettres short stories Morris and poems Rossetti Symons In this manner two positions complement each other namely the views of the theoreticians and those of practitioners The former attempted to discern and extract the quintessence of the artistic powers on the basis of their observations and reflections whereas the latter relied on their personal experiences in this respect Willing's Press Guide ,1996 A guide to the press of the United Kingdom and to the principal publications of Europe Australia the Far East Gulf States and the U S A
