IEA Civic Education Study CIVED 1999 2000 IEA's ICCS remains the only large scale international study dedicated to formal and informal civic and citizenship education in school. It continues to make substantial contributions to understanding the nature of the acquired civic knowledge, attitudes and participatory skills. It also discusses in depth how a wide range of countries prepare their young people for citizenship in changing political, social and economic circumstances. The next cycle of ICCS is planned for 2022. In this book, more than 20 national representatives and international scholars from Europe, Latin America, Asia and North America assess how the processes and findings of the 2009 and 2016 cycles of ICCS and CIVED 1999 2000 have been used to improve nations' understanding of their students' civic knowledge, beliefs, attitudes, current civic related behaviors and intentions for future participation in a comparative context. There are also chapters summarizing the secondary analysis of those studies' results, indicating their usefulness for educational improvement and reflecting on policy issues. The analyses and reflections in this book provide timely insight into international educational discourse, policy practice and research in an area of education that is becoming increasingly important for many societies.

Nature of Science in Science Instruction William McComas, 2020-08-24 This book offers a comprehensive introduction to Nature of Science (NOS), one of the most important aspects of science teaching and learning, and includes tested strategies for teaching aspects of the NOS in a variety of instructional settings. In line with the recommendations in the field to include NOS in all plans for science instruction, the book provides an accessible resource of background information on NOS rationales for teaching these targeted NOS aspects and most importantly how to teach about the nature of science in specific instructional contexts. The first section examines the why and what of NOS, its nature and what research says about how to teach NOS in science settings. The second section focuses on extending knowledge about NOS to questions of scientific method, theory-laden observation, the role of experiments and observations, and distinctions between science, engineering and technology. The dominant theme of the remainder of the book is a focus on teaching aspects of NOS applicable to a wide variety of instructional environments.

OECD Reviews of Evaluation and Assessment in Education: North Macedonia OECD, 2019-06-04 The Republic of North Macedonia has made remarkable progress in expanding access to education and strengthening institutional capacity. Yet the majority of young Macedonians leave school without mastering the basic competencies for life and work, and students' background continues to influence performance. This review, developed in cooperation with UNICEF, provides North Macedonia with recommendations to help strengthen its evaluation and assessment system by moving towards a system where assessment provides students with helpful feedback to improve learning.
