Threshold Concepts in Practice Ray Land, Jan H. F. Meyer, Michael T. Flanagan, 2016-07-09 Threshold Concepts in Practice brings together fifty researchers from sixteen countries and a wide variety of disciplines to analyse their teaching practice and the learning experiences of their students through the lens of the Threshold Concepts Framework In any discipline there are certain concepts the jewels in the curriculum whose acquisition is akin to passing through a portal Learners enter new conceptual and often affective territory Previously inaccessible ways of thinking or practising come into view without which they cannot progress and which offer a transformed internal view of subject landscape or even world view These conceptual gateways are integrative exposing the previously hidden interrelatedness of ideas and are irreversible However they frequently present troublesome knowledge and are often points at which students become stuck Difficulty in understanding may leave the learner in a liminal state of transition a betwixt and between space of knowing and not knowing where understanding can approximate to a form of mimicry Learners navigating such spaces report a sense of uncertainty ambiguity paradox anxiety even chaos The liminal space may equally be one of awe and wonderment Thresholds research identifies these spaces as key transformational points crucial to the learner's development but where they can oscillate and remain for considerable periods These spaces require not only conceptual but ontological and discursive shifts This volume the fourth in a tetralogy on Threshold Concepts discusses student experiences and the curriculum interventions of their teachers in a range of disciplines and professional practices including medicine law engineering architecture and military education Cover image Detail from Eve offering the apple to Adam in the Garden of Eden and the serpent c 1520 25 Lucas Cranach the Elder 1472 1553 Bridgeman Images All rights reserved

Threshold Concepts on the Edge

Julie A. Timmermans, Ray Land, 2019-12-30 Since the first literature about the Threshold Concepts Framework was published in 2003 a considerable body of educational research into this topic has grown internationally across a wide range of disciplines and professional fields Successful negotiation of a threshold concept can be seen as crossing boundaries into new conceptual space or as a portal opening up new and previously inaccessible ways of thinking about something In this unfamiliar conceptual terrain fresh insights and perceptions come into view and access is gained to new discourses This frequently entails encounters with troublesome knowledge knowledge which provokes a liminal phase of transition in which new understandings must be integrated and importantly prior conceptions relinquished There is often double trouble in that letting go of a prevailing familiar view frequently involves a discomfiting change in the subjectivity of the learner We become what we know It is a space in which the learner might become stuck Threshold Concepts on the Edge the fifth volume in a series on this subject discusses the new directions of this research Its six sections address issues that arise in relation to theoretical development liminal space ontological transformations curriculum interdisciplinarity and aspects of writing across learning thresholds
